

Hopkins Sees Permanent Policy of Federal Jobs For Nation's Unemployed

Washington—(AP)—Harry L. Hopkins completed four strenuous years in charge of federal relief today, convinced that government work for the jobless permanently has replaced private charity as "the American system."

The lean, Iowa-born administrator has supervised the greatest relief fund in history—amounting to all most $7,000,000,000 for work relief alone.

"My years here have taught me that Americans like to work for what they get," he said, "and that the nation has use for their labor in public improvements when they can't find a job in private industry."

"The new American system is to give its employable people work that will maintain their skills and morale, rather than to let them deteriorate in idleness."

Never Back to Dole
"I am confident that we will never go back to the dole or the vicious idea that poverty should be punished."

It was Hopkins who, late in 1933, began the transition from state aid to federal work. The civil works administration, which put 4,000,000 on the treasury pay roll within a month, resulted.

Unemployment had been an intermittent problem for more than 40 years before Roosevelt took office, but federal aid was not granted until late in the Hoover administration in the form of loans to states.

"The American system," Hopkins recalled, "was to take care of the jobless through private agencies. It worked well until the load became too great. States and cities had to get busy."

Congress first authorized the Reconstruction Finance corporation in July, 1932, to lend $300,000,000 to the states.

Spurred by estimates that 18,000,000 persons depended on public funds and that needs were growing, the first Roosevelt congress voted $500,000,000 for state grants. Supervision became partly a federal responsibility.

Named by President
After signing that bill, the president telephoned his friend Hopkins in New York—where he headed state relief activities—to catch the next train here. On May 22 he began acting on governors' pleas for funds.

Hopkins brought with him an energy developed in basketball at Grinnell college, a mind which won Phi Beta Kappa honors, long experience with charity organizations and disregard for tradition as such.

"I love prize fights, horse races, modern literature and poetry," he once said.

His immediate problem is to make next year's relief appropriation, he said $1,500,000,000 or a third less, go as far as possible. It means making states and communities bear a larger share of supply costs for the work program, so that more of the federal dollar can be spent for labor.

Favor Abolition Of Ton-Mile Tax
Senate Bill Would Substitute Flat Quarterly Fee Basis

Madison—(AP)—The assembly received from the senate today a bill to abolish the present ton-mile tax which would place all truck and bus drivers, with a few exceptions, on a flat quarterly fee basis payable in advance.

The bill, passed by the senate yesterday, would eliminate the alternative system, now in effect, whereby by truck and bus operators can choose to pay either a mileage or a flat tax quarterly after operation.

The public service commission, which administers transportation laws, said the new fee basis probably will mean an increase in revenue. Under present law the taxes on truck and bus lines average between $800,000 and $900,000 a year.

The bill exempts from the fee basis vehicles used to haul farm produce, and dray lines operated in a single municipality and environs. Operators also may obtain special permits for operation of one large truck not more than 1,000 miles quarterly.

In all cases where exceptions are made, taxes will remain payable on a mileage basis.

Commander Johnson Is Given New Assignment
Green Bay—(AP)—Lieutenant S. B. Johnson, commander of the Eleventh district, United States coast guard here for the last six years, received orders from Washington today transferring him to San Francisco as commander of the Twelfth district.

The detachment order is effective June 25 and at San Francisco he will relieve Lieutenant Commander Frank B. Lincoln, whose new assignment has not been announced. The vacancy in this district is to be filled by Chief Boatswain Anthony F. Glaza, currently assistant to Lieutenant Commander Martin W. Rasmussen, commander of the Ninth district at Buffalo.

German Press In Attack on Groups in U.S.

Assails Jews and Catholics And Demands Action By Vatican

LA GUARDIA SCORED

Bishops Support Mundelein; Pope Completes White Book

Berlin—(AP)—The controlled Nazi press renewed its broadsides against American Jews and Catholics today and demanded that the Vatican "call to order" George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago for attacks on Adolf Hitler.

The outbursts were extended to include not only the cardinal but Catholics and Jews generally and Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York, in particular.

Under the caption of "Hair-Raising Immorality in New York High Schools," the official news agency distributed an item throughout Germany describing an investigation into charges that there had been wholesale bootlegging of contraceptives among students of Brooklyn high schools.

"This action by the board of education," the dispatch said, "is further evidence of what unheard of things are possible in this city under the eyes of the Jew LaGuardia."

The agency said Brooklyn is inhabited "chiefly by Jews and Catholics," and added that the investigation showed "high school pupils were working hand in hand with gangsters who supplied them with contraceptives."

Probe in Brooklyn
"An investigation is being made by District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn into what he termed immorality among high school students in that borough."

The press generally insisted on a definite showdown with the Vatican over Cardinal Mundelein's description of the reichschancellor as "an Austrian Paper-hanger, and a poor one at that" and of German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges as worse propaganda than the atrocity tales of the World War.

Girl to Name Former Sweetheart as Slayer

Jersey City, N. J.—(AP)—Seventeen-year-old Gladys MacKnight almost collapsed at her murder trial today as her lawyer revealed to the jury she would turn against her former child boy sweetheart and accuse him of wielding the hatchet which killed her mother.

The girl closed her eyes and swayed, and police matrons, holding her by the arms, helped her from the room as a luncheon recess was called.

The state had rested its case and Gladys' lawyer, R. Lewis Kennedy, had told the 12-man jury what the girl's story would be when she took the stand in her own defense.

He said she would accuse her co-defendant, Donald Wightman, 18, of wielding the hatchet which killed her mother.

Refuses to Extradite Man on Federal Charge

New York—(AP)—United States Court Commissioner Garrett W. Cotter refused yesterday to extradite Philip Ebert, 44-year-old bookkeeper, to Madison, Wis., to face federal Mann act charges there.

Cotter found there was no evidence Ebert had illegally transported a woman from Atlanta, Ga., to Madison in 1935 or at any other time.

Ebert, former government employee, is married and the father of five children. He is separated from his wife.

OSHKOSH GROCER KILLED
Oshkosh—(AP)—Harry Juedes, 39, grocery store proprietor, attempting a minor repair, fell 20 feet to his death yesterday from a second story back porch.

500 Miners Launch Sit-Down Strike 360 Feet Under Surface in Illinois

Gillespie, Ill.—(AP)—Voluntarily entombed 360 feet below the earth's surface, approximately 500 miners settled down to an underground existence today after a jolly near-sleepless night inaugurating a sit-down strike in the Superior Coal company's No. 4 mine at Wilsonville.

The strike was called late yesterday to support demands for a share-the-work plan with 300 employees of the company made idle last week by the closing of another pit for repairs.

Laughing and singing, the men underground carried their carefree demonstration into the early morning hours. Seventy of the older men, those between 65 and 70 years of age, were sent to the surface by the pit committee to spare them the hardships of the self-imposed entombment.

The others—hardy young men of 20 to 30 and gray-haired veterans of the pits twice their age and more—were determined, said John Fisher, president of Local No. 1 of the Progressive Miners of America, "to stick it out to the last."

As rapidly as news of the underground sit-down spread, crowds gathered at the mine tipples. Wives of the strikers brought their children. Idle miners and their families flocked to the shaft. Hundreds of curious came to look on. There was no demonstration and the crowd, estimated at 2,500 remained orderly until it began to disperse late last night.

Early today, less than 50 persons were reported at the surface of the shaft.

Thief Attempts to Steal Too Much and Is Sent to Prison

Wausau—(AP)—Louis Ostrom's light fingers, Rude Kukulka's sound sleeping, and a policeman's alertness combined to send Ostrom to prison today. Here's the story told in Circuit Judge A. H. Reid's court: Kukulka went to sleep in his automobile last night.

Ostrom, finding Kukulka asleep, filched his watch and wallet. Since it was easy, Ostrom then relieved Kukulka of his necktie and belt. Becoming bolder, Ostrom started to steal the pants right off Kukulka's legs. Kukulka slept.

But a policeman happened by, saw that Kukulka was about to be divested of essential clothing, and called a halt. He captured Ostrom after a short chase, returned to the automobile and awakened Kukulka.

Ostrom who said Booklyn, N. Y., was his home, pleaded guilty to robbery charges today and was sentenced to Wausau for one to two years.

Senate Approves Interim Fund for State Labor Board

Governor Receives Measure to Provide $5,000 Until July 1

Madison—(AP)—The senate approved today an appropriation of $5,000 to finance the new state labor disputes board until July 1 when its regular appropriation starts.

The measure, which also provides that members of the board may serve only part-time if they so desire, now goes to the governor for his signature.

Passage in the senate followed renewed debate over the merits of the Severson labor act and a claim by opponents of that act that introduction of the present changes was a confession of weakness of the act.

The vote was 25 to 3, with three Republicans, Senators Morvin, Duell, and Fond du Lac, Conrad Shearer of Kenosha and Edward J. Roethe of Fond du Lac, voting "no."

Duell said the provision for part-time members would set "a bad precedent. The first thing you know the men appointed to the public service commission, the insurance department, industrial commission and other positions will retain their private medical or law practices or private business."

Bolens' Attack
Senator Harry Bolens (D), Port Washington, leader of the opposition to the Severson act, declared that the present members of the labor board would resign after the legislative session ends and that Governor LaFollette then would appoint "politicians who have been promised the jobs."

Another foe of the Severson act, Senator Kenneth White (R), River Falls, said that act "was drawn solely for political purposes and forced through the legislature for political purposes. Here's a chance to improve a poor piece of legislation. Eventually it may be made workable."

Truce Averts Strike of Oshkosh Dairy Drivers

Oshkosh—(AP)—A one-day truce agreed upon today by officials of the Guernsey Dairy, the Carver Ice Cream companies and the Teamsters and Truck Drivers' union No. 126 (A. F. L.) averted a threatened strike and cessation of the milk deliveries.

Walter Tank, business agent for the union, said a conference had been arranged with representatives of the two milk companies and the Sunlite Dairy company this afternoon. The Sunlite company is not involved in the threatened strike.

At the conference today is not productive of an agreement, Tank said the strike would begin tomorrow.

More than 18 employees are involved. They want a 20 per cent wage increase, eight-hour day, six-day week, and a closed shop.

Proposals for Armistice are Given Support

No Power Outside of Spain Will Object to Plan, London Report

BRITAIN TAKES LEAD

Neither Germany Nor Italy Now Considered as Stumbling Blocks

Bilbao, Spain—(AP)—Two captured German aviators were sentenced to death today on charges of military rebellion and murder.

The two officers, downed on the Basque front, were convicted by a popular tribunal of waging warfare against the government of Spain in the forces of insurgent General Francisco Franco.

They are Captain Walter Kienzel and Lieutenant Gunther Schulze. A Febus (governmental Spanish) agency account of the trial said both men testified they had been in the regular German army before they came to Spain voluntarily.

London—(AP)—Proposals for an armistice in the Spanish civil war and for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers moved towards actuality today with authoritative assurances that no European power outside Spain will object.

Germany and Italy were said authoritatively to have been the greatest stumbling blocks to the twin plans for restoring peace in embattled Spain, but well-informed diplomatic personages said both now would join general discussions.

The British government, though its own ambassadors, has been seeking to learn the attitude of foreign nations on the armistice for some time. It was reliably disclosed that they have encountered no refusals for active consideration of the plan.

A special technical committee of the 27-nation "hands off Spain" group discussed the possibility of withdrawals of foreign troops from the civil war today and pressed the delegates to obtain their governments' flat approval of an armistice.

Cool on League Issue
The Spanish government's efforts to bring the civil war before the League of Nations, meanwhile, were received coolly in Whitehall. Informed quarters contended that an armistice before the league convenes would prevent serious considerations of the Spanish demands at Geneva.

(The League of Nations council assembly will meet next week.)
(The Spanish Valencia government, which has made repeated accusations of German and Italian interference, is expected to make a statement today.)

Teachers' Tenure Bill Is Advanced

20 Assemblymen Absent And Many Amendments Are Added to Measure

Madison—(AP)—The teacher tenure bill sponsored by the Wisconsin Education association faced an uncertain fate in the assembly today after it had been advanced to third reading, 41 to 39.

Although the test roll called showed a two vote margin in favor of the measure, 20 members were absent and numerous amendments were adopted requiring resubmission to the senate if the bill passes.

Speaker Paul Alfonsi of Pence, who guided the measure through deliberation, had it placed on the calendar of next Tuesday for final disposition.

The most controversial amendment, exempting school superintendents and other administrative officials from permanent tenure, was defeated after a bitter debate.

Alfonsi, who was opposed to the amendment, also moved that it be reconsidered Tuesday to hasten final action on the bill.

The house revived and adopted the Rice amendment extending from three to five years the probationary period required of teachers before their positions become permanent. Those who have been teaching five years would come under the law automatically if reemployed for the next year.

Other house changes adopted: The Fitzsimons amendment, excluding from tenure any married teacher whose husband or wife earns $2,000 a year.

The Alfonsi amendment making the effective date Aug. 1 instead of Sept. 1.

Labor Board Member Hits Company Unions

Milwaukee—(AP)—Father Francis J. Haas, a member of the Wisconsin Labor Relations board denounced company unions and labor spying activities yesterday in an address at the closing session of the 3-day convention of the National County Officers' association.

"It is short-sighted on the part of industry to promote company unions," Father Haas said. "The objection is that representatives of the workers are on the company's payroll and, therefore, they cannot bargain with a free hand. Company unions inevitably lead to industrial strife—strikes, riots, disruption, and personal hatreds."

"Labor spying is a miserable, low activity," the priest said.

Economy Issue Facing Test in Vote on Relief

See 40-Hour Week as Administration's Aim

Washington—(AP)—Congressmen closely in touch with labor matters predicted today the administration would seek to establish a 40-hour work week and a basic minimum wage of 40 cents an hour.

The administration bill, to be recommended by President Roosevelt in a special message to congress, will be introduced by Chairman Connery (D-Mass.) of the house labor committee.

Connery would not discuss details. But other members said the provisions of the bill probably would be flexible so as to take care of industries having labor problems peculiar to themselves.

The bill, they indicated, would set up a commission to work out details of the program. They said the commission probably would have power to fix maximum hours in some cases of 35 hours a week and to establish minimum wages in brackets ranging up to a limit of $1,500 a year.

The bill was expected to provide a flat prohibition against child labor.

Duke and Wallis Won't be Wed by Religious Rites

Rogers Silent About Why Proposed Service Has Been Abandoned

Monts, France—(AP)—There will be no religious ceremony to unite the duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield, a spokesman announced tonight.

Herman L. Rogers made the announcement. He refused to say why the plans for a religious service, to follow the civil service on June 3, had been abandoned.

It was known, however, that the duke and his fiancée had been trying without much success to find an Anglican pastor who would marry them in the face of the church's stand against remarriage of divorced persons and its constant opposition to the Edward-Warfield union.

Hugh L. Thomas, British embassy counselor at Paris, was at the Chateau de Candé with Windsor and Mrs. Warfield today, presumably on the question of a religious service. But Rogers would not say whether Thomas' presence had anything to do with the decision not to have such a service.

"Aunt Bessie" Present
Mrs. D. B. Merriman, Mrs. Warfield's "Aunt Bessie," arrived at the chateau today from the United States to be the "number one" wedding guest. Just ahead of her were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bates, described as Americans who are "personal friends of the duke." They will stay over the weekend.

Britain's government was reported meanwhile to have denied the former monarch the protection of the British navy for a honeymoon cruise down the coast of civil war-torn Spain.

More Deputies on Duty As Lumberjacks Strike

Marquette, Mich.—(AP)—Sheriff MacFarlane assigned three extra deputies to duty today in this small sawmill town, the gathering point for striking lumberjacks from six logging camps. He swore in the deputies at the request of town residents.

Between 300 and 400 lumberjacks walked out yesterday at four camps operated by jobbers for the Marathon Paper mills and two operated by the William Bonifas Lumber company. The camps are located in the eastern part of Goetzville and the southern portion of Ontonagon counties.

Handbills circulated by union leaders listed demands as a 40-hour week, 55 cents an hour pay, recognition of the sawmill and lumber workers' union as collective bargaining agency, single beds, shower baths and free meals for men looking for work.

Engine, Tender, 3 Cars Derailed Near Madison

Madison—(AP)—The engine, tender and three cars of a northbound North Western road extra freight train were derailed on the outskirts of Madison at 2:20 a. m. today.

Arthur Worthman, division superintendent, said the cause had not been determined. No one was injured. The only delay to traffic affected the train for Lancaster, scheduled to leave Madison at 7:25 a. m. It was not expected to leave until about noon.

101-Year-Old Resident Of Richland Center Dies

Richland Center—(AP)—Richard W. Hampton, 101 years old, died at the home of his son, Richard, here last night.

He was born in Richmond, Va., Feb. 24, 1836, and came to Wisconsin in 1858. He operated a livery business here before he retired 20 years ago.

3 Major Proposals Opposed to President's Stand MAY BALLOT TODAY

Separate Fight Seen Over Public Works Funds

Washington—(AP)—The house tentatively defeated today a proposal by Representative Boileau (D-Wis.) to appropriate $3,000,000,000 for relief in 1938.

Washington—(AP)—The house battle over the size of next year's relief fund developed today into a contest between administration forces and groups wanting to increase or decrease President Roosevelt's recommendation for $1,500,000,000.

Observers described the final vote, probably late in the afternoon, as an important test of sentiment on the economy issue.

Those pitted against the president's supporters offered three diverse proposals:

1. $500,000,000 cut in the president's figure, which Representative Woodrum (D-Va.) declared would "take the racketeering out of relief."

2. A $4,000,000,000 relief fund, which Representative Boileau (D-Wis.) said would provide jobs for 3,000,000 and a 20 per cent increase in WPA pay.

3. A $2,000,000,000 "compromise," which Representative Mavrick (D-Texas) said would prevent the lay-off of 600,000 men under the president's program.

Representative Beiter (D-N. Y.) announced a separate fight to earmark $300,000,000 for the public works administration, which he would extend for two years.

See Possible Veto
The picture of next year's proposed government expenditures gradually was developing through action on supply bills.

Despite predictions of some members that it might incur a presidential veto, the house members voted yesterday to increase the interior department appropriation $2,390,500 over the president's budget recommendation and $7,131,840 above the sum suggested by its own appropriations committee.

Before approving the $123,003,104 measure, the house doubled a suggested $7,241,500 item for aiding vocational education and tacked on $2,000,000 to the fund provided for continuing work on the Blue Ridge parkway in Virginia and North Carolina.

For reclamation the house voted $39,000,000, despite Republican efforts to eliminate or reduce every item.

Approves CCC Plan
The senate, with only Senators King (D-Utah) and Borah (R-Idaho) dissenting, approved President Roosevelt's recommendation that the civilian conservation corps be made permanent. The final vote followed a 42-to-26 defeat of the house-approved proposal extending the life of the agency only two years.

Word that President Roosevelt had approved a $25,000,000 expenditure for "emergency and priority" flood control projects in the lower Ohio valley came from Chairman Whittington (D-Miss.) of the house flood control committee.

The program would include spending $11,000,000 on these projects in the coming fiscal year, in addition to the $30,000,000 recommended.

Youth Fatally Hurt in Stevens Point Smashup

Stevens Point—(AP)—Daniel Senoraskie, 17, Wausau, Wis., who was extricated from the wreckage of an automobile last night after rescuers worked 45 minutes, died in a hospital here today of his injuries.

Milton Wilkie, Wausau, and Senoraskie were driving east on Highway 54 near here when their car crashed into a truck which had stalled. Authorities said Wilkie told them he was blinded by the lights of a truck coming west to tow the broken down machine into town.

The right side of the car, where Senoraskie was seated, jammed beneath the stalled truck. Rescuers used jacks and ripped out the seat to remove the youth.

Salvation Army's Chief of Staff Is Ousted After Trial

London—(AP)—A secret court martial of the Salvation Army today dismissed Henry W. Mapp, 50-year-old chief of staff, "for reasons for personal conduct."

Discharge of the white-haired veteran who has been in the Salvation Army for 50 years and acted as its chief of staff since 1929 came after General Evangeline Booth, commander-in-chief, insisted on a court martial, composed of five senior officers.

General Booth had the power to discharge any member of the great organization but forced the trial, officers disclosed, "because she did not want it said she had eliminated a man whose influence in the army rivaled hers."

The five-member court martial agreed unanimously that evidence against Mapp was "conclusive" but the nature of the charge of personal misconduct was not disclosed.

Apostolate Hears Bishop Emphasize Value of Charity

Personal Duty Must Not be Forgotten, Organization Is Told

"Let us not for a moment forget our own personal duty in the all absorbing matter of ceaseless effort in the upbuilding of the human family."

This was the plea of the Right Reverend Paul P. Rhode, bishop of the Green Bay diocese, at the annual meeting of the Appleton Apostolate at Columbia hall Thursday evening.

Describing the occasion as a demonstration of a living faith, Bishop Rhode said, "If we profess to love God and fail to love our neighbors here on earth, we are deluding ourselves."

The annual report of the Apostolate, he said, is a record of material benefactions, but the record of the spiritual influences which has been extended to those who have received these benefactions is beyond portrayal in print or appreciation by man.

"Someone else," he said, "must be the judge."

"Period of Unrest"
"We are living in a period of unrest. It seems to us that something has gone wrong with the world. It seems we are laboring under a burden of ill will and any change, afflicted other centuries. That is a mistaken notion. Each generation has indulged in the same misconception. We are witnessing the battle between evil and good, between error and truth, as against the background of present day conditions."

"Just as we doubt the permanence of present day institutions, so have other generations doubted. The problem that faces us is to do, in this age, what we can to perpetuate what is worth while perpetuating."

"In spite of what new theories of government may bring, in spite of what new forms for human happiness may be devised, what will continue to sustain future generations are faith, hope and charity."

Bishop Rhode pointed to a agent merely to punish malefactors and carry on wars. It now has begun to be taken as a great agency whereby, through collective effort, misery, want and desolation are to be removed, he said.

"God Given Duty"
"But in spite of the Social Security act, old age assistance, unemployment insurance, you and I never will be free of that God given duty that we recognize in every human being our brother."

"Regardless of differences in race or creed or color, we must not deny to a child of a common father what we owe to him under God," Bishop Rhode stated.

"There is a whole field of human needs that government agencies cannot reach. If solid foundations of human happiness are to be laid, you must reach the spirit, bring it in touch with its maker, bring to it consciousness of obligation to fellow men, else you have not begun to remedy the problems of human trial here on earth."

Expresses Gratitude
"Let us, as good citizens, give our government every help, but let us not for a moment forget our own personal duty in the all absorbing matter of ceaseless effort in upbuilding of the human family."

Bishop Rhode expressed his gratitude not only to the Apostolate and its members for their charity activities, but to those of other religious convictions who, seeing the work of the Apostolate, have been sympathetic in their attitude and have offered to participate.

The invocation at the opening of the meeting was pronounced by Bishop Rhode and following the dinner annual reports were given by Gustave Keller, director, and Mrs. E. F. Carroll, secretary of the work of the Apostolate.

Mr. Keller lauded the work of Mrs. Carroll, who is resigning from the office of secretary.

Extends Welcome
Guests, officers, committee chairman, and parish workers were introduced by Mr. Keller and following an introduction by the Rev. James Meagher, pastor of St. Mary's parish, the welcome of the parish to the Apostolate was given by Gustave J. Keller.

The Rev. Henry C. Head, diocesan director, expressed his gratitude for the work of the Apostolate here and briefly outlined the diocesan program which will provide trained social service workers in key positions throughout the diocese.

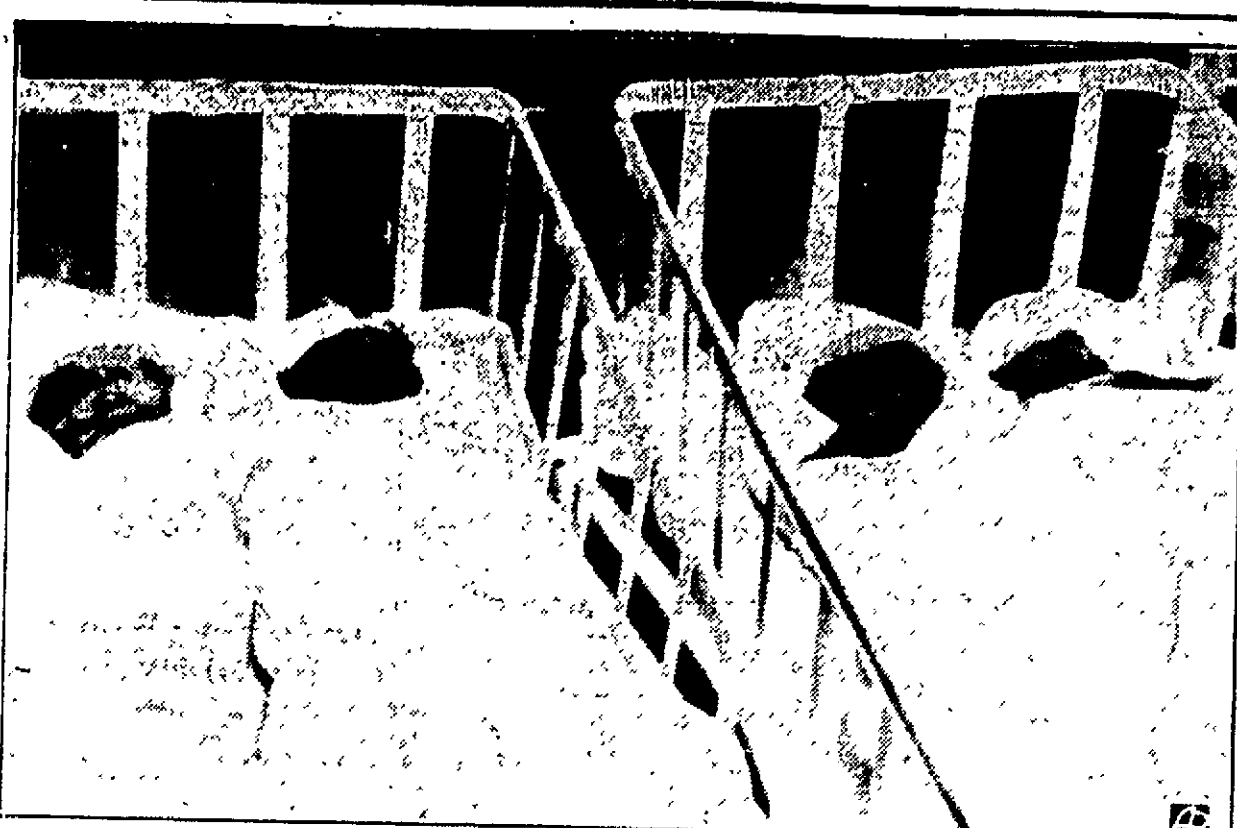

Although the bulk of relief now is furnished by public efforts, private organizations still must provide supplementary aid, the human, extra things that public agencies cannot do, he stated.

"The Apostolate," he said, "provides your opportunity to carry out the cardinal virtue of charity."

In a tale taken at the banquet, Herman Schreyer and John R. Ricci gave vivid pictures from St. Mary's congregation of Mrs. Bernice A. J. Touse and her son, George, who were rescued from Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. Frances DeYoung and Conrad Verbruggen from St. Mary's congregation and Mrs. J. E. Flynn from St. Theresa congregation.

Thirty-five tables of cards were in play after the banquet. Prizes at schafkopf were won by Mrs. G. Miron, Miss Margaret Schaefer, Conrad Verbruggen and P. J. Vauzhan, at auction bridge by Edward Sternard, Mrs. Eugene Walsh, and Mrs. James Bradley, and at contract by Mrs. Robert A. Roemer and Mrs. R. T. McCarthy.

Cordell Zuelke Named Editor of 1937-38 Clarion

Six Staff Appointments Announced Last Night At Annual Banquet

Cordell Zuelke has been named editor-in-chief of the "Clarion," Appleton High school yearbook, for next year. It was announced last night at the annual Clarion staff banquet at the Hearlstone.

The appointment was made by Miss Mary L. Burnquist and Miss Marcela Buesing, faculty advisers to the staff.

Other department leaders named last night were Allen Baurain, financial manager; John Killoran and Anthony Koehne, sponsorship managers; James Gosse, faculty subscription manager; and Henry Starck, student subscription manager.

The above appointments were made by Miss Esther M. Graef, financial adviser.

Thirty-five Clarion staff members and advisers were in attendance. Harry Zerbel, retiring editor-in-chief, gave a short talk on "The Theme of This Year's Clarion" at which Miss Buesing and Miss Graef announced department leaders for next year.

Dolores Jens gave a toast to the advisers at the banquet after which Elaine Buesing was featured in a reading. Miss Margaret Giggins last night was appointed a faculty adviser to succeed Miss Burnquist.

Retiring staff members include Harry Zerbel, editor-in-chief; Walter Schmidt, financial manager; Robert Langlois, sponsorship manager; John Rosebush, subscription manager.

took a seat near Hall. The latter charged that Nelson was lobbying against the bill in violation of the rules and asked the speaker to have him removed. Sergeant-at-arms Gus Rheingans talked with Nelson, but the senator remained. Assemblyman Harry Bergren (D), Siren, arose to deny that Nelson was attempting to influence any votes.

Hall told the assembly that Douglas county owes the city $85,000 and that teachers, firemen, policemen and other city employees have not been paid for six weeks. He referred to the scrip law as a "damnable curse" on the statute books and said Superior had been compelled to turn over to the county the equivalent of $302,000 which rightfully belonged to the city.

City Would Use Scrip
"We are asking that the city be permitted to use this county scrip just as any other holder," he said. Assemblyman Peterson declared that other villages and towns in

Legislators Must Act on Hundreds Of Measures Before End of Session

(Post-Crescent Madison Bureau)
Madison — With the major part of the administration's legislative program barely touched, and with hundreds of bills of lesser importance awaiting action, more and more legislators are beginning to think of that day when the legislature will look up its doors and the members will clear up their desks and return to their private affairs.

Farmer members especially, since the coming of spring and the planting season, are talking adjournment, despite the prediction of the best authorities that the session will extend into August at the very least. As one member remarked: "I can't get used to coming to work at 9 or 10 o'clock. At home on the farm my day begins at 6 o'clock."

Despite the appearance of luxury hours, however, the legislators this session can console themselves that the lengthy session which is in prospect is not the result of their sloth. Both houses have for several weeks been holding longer sessions than customary, and the assembly for some time past has adopted the policy it set down early in the session, a five day working week. Recently there was some discussion of a six day week, but experience has shown, according to legislative leaders, that Saturday sessions are unsatisfactory.

Senate Working Hard
While the senate has only a fraction of the number of bills awaiting action by the assembly, the senior house has also with the coming of spring increased the length of its meetings, and a calendar which was recently more than a week in arrears, is rapidly being brought up to date. Yesterday, in the absence of committee meetings, the senate voted to hold an afternoon session, the first this year.

Legislative committees are also sitting for long hours, and each of the numberless bills introduced by enthusiastic lawmakers is given careful consideration and public hearing. One of the busiest of the committees is the senate state and local government group, which meets several times a week with hearings often extending into the evening. The joint finance committee has been meeting several times weekly for long afternoon sessions devoted to scanning the myriad appropriation measures in both houses.

Jury Sets Damages of $304 in Accident Suit
Damages of $304 were set by a 6-man municipal court jury Thursday afternoon in the $725 suit brought by Howard and Charlotte Campbell, Appleton, against Regina Sylvanowicz, Menasha, and the Great American Indemnity company.

The jury found, however, that the plaintiff Charlotte Campbell was 25 per cent negligent and Miss Sylvanowicz 75 per cent negligent in the automobile accident, on which the suit was based. Trial of the action was completed in one day.

Enter Orchestras In DePere Meet
Junior and Senior High School Musical Groups To Compete Tomorrow

Ninety-three members of the Appleton Senior and Junior High school orchestras will compete in the district music festival at West DePere Saturday afternoon. Jay I. Williams, director, will accompany the group which will leave Appleton at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon. The orchestras will play at 2:45.

The senior high school orchestra, which has won first place in Class A festivals for the last six years, is the only Class A orchestra entered in the tourney.

Although listed as a Class D orchestra because of its recent organization, the junior high school orchestra will compete in Class B against high school musical groups from Sturgeon Bay and Green Bay. The junior high school orchestra includes honor musicians at Roosevelt, Wilson and McKinley Junior High schools.

Douglas county are affected the same as Superior and that the house should be given the county's viewpoint.

He argued that the county was not responsible for the depression, but in one year had to take deeds on hundreds of properties in Superior on which it probably will never collect any taxes.

"You can't exact blood when there isn't any," he said. "The county will be willing to go off the scrip system as soon as it can. It isn't trying to fight the city."

Peterson said that of 30 members of the county board, 10 of whom are Superior representatives, all but two disapproved of the Hall bill. "I'm glad you brought that up," Hall replied. "The district attorney, Thomas Foley, is the young dictator of the county board. The city representatives had to do what he said if they wanted any committee appointments."

"This bill permits the city to use county scrip if the county board consents. I don't think it ever will, but the people know where the responsibility lies if the city goes bankrupt."

Hall charged the county has been maintaining lobbyists in Madison virtually at the expense of Superior.

Church to Observe Fifth Anniversary
The fifth anniversary of the dedication of First English Lutheran church will be observed Sunday with a special anniversary sermon at 10:30 by the Rev. Carl Musall, Birmingham. The present church building was dedicated May 22, 1932.

About 500 persons were served at the anniversary dinner and supper Thursday noon and evening in the parish hall.

Building Permits
One building permit was issued yesterday by the city building inspection department. The permit was issued to Otto Wojahn, 530 S. Fairview street, double garage, $250.

Southoff Claims Program Would Net Half Billion

Badger Congressman Outlines Economy, Taxation Proposals

Washington —(U)—Representative Harry Southoff, Madison, Wis., Progressive, estimates the government would net about $500,000,000 under an economy and taxation program he has proposed.

Speaking on the house floor late yesterday, Southoff declared farms and homes could not carry the increased real estate taxes which would result if the federal government failed to supply sufficient relief funds.

Paring the federal relief program, he said, would increase the burden of the states and boost real estate levies.

He proposed the following program:

(1) A surtax on net incomes exceeding $4,000 annually.

(2) A power tax on radio broadcasting stations.

(3) "Endeavor to collect" $100,000,000 a year from debtor nations, offering in exchange to sell small amounts of helium for medical purposes.

(4) Cut the government's franking and printing bill 50 per cent to save $34,000,000 annually.

(5) Cut $200,000,000 from the army and navy appropriations.

Must Ease Burden
"It is very evident," Southoff said, "that congress must find some way of lightening the burden on homes mortgaged to the Home Owners' loan corporation or we shall be faced with the inconsistent policy of foreclosing on homes, dispossessing the owners and then placing them on the relief rolls and paying rent for them in some other place."

"It is rank injustice to our farmers and home owners that we should take from them the last dollar in the world and deprive them of their homes while permitting foreigners to owe us over $22,000,000,000."

"We have entered into trade agreements, trading off many of our agricultural products for the benefit of these countries which squander every dollar we give them in preparation for the next war. I suggest the (state) department instead of trading away all of our business for the benefit of deadbeat foreigners spend time and energy evolving a policy for the collection of these debts."

Southoff criticized also expenditures for reclamation and irrigation in the far west, contending the program was "inconsistent" because the "people are taxed heavily to make benefit payments in agriculture, while at the same time we tax them to create new acreage by reclamation and irrigation."

One Injured When Cars Crash at Intersection
Jarbi Grathen, 700 N. Mason street, was cut about the forehead and both hands early this morning when the car he was driving, owned by Robert Snow, Green Bay, and a machine driven by Alvin Lemke, 125 N. Story street, collided at N. Bennett and W. Elsie streets, according to police.

Grathen was driving west on Elsie street and Lemke south on Bennett street when the collision occurred. The impact tipped the Snow car over.

Lutheran Teachers To Meet at Neenah
Lutheran school teachers of the Fox River valley will attend a conference Saturday at Trinity Lutheran school, Neenah. C. F. Hedges, Neenah superintendent of schools, will be the principal speaker and will discuss the various report card systems.

Teachers from Appleton, Neenah, Kaukauna, New London, Hortonville, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Weyauwega will be present. The St. Paul Lutheran school and St. Matthew Lutheran school of this city will be represented.

Governor Restrained From Certifying State Paintings

Milwaukee—(U)—Wilhelm Willen, Adrian Dirk Abraham de Dieperink van Langereis, Milwaukee artist, held a temporary court order today restraining Governor Philip LaFollette's committee from certifying paintings picked to represent the state at a national exhibition in New York June 16.

Van Langereis, none of whose paintings were chosen by the group, charged it as being "arbitrary, capricious, whimsical and self-serving." He said the selections did not represent the work of "representative Wisconsin artists."

James P. Taugher, attorney for Van Langereis, obtained the order yesterday from Circuit Judge Daniel W. Sullivan.

The order summons the 10 artists whose works were chosen and six members of the committee, including Elsa Ulbricht, Milwaukee, chairman, and John Stuart Curry, artist in residence at the University of Wisconsin, to appear in court today to show cause why the order should not be made permanent.

Van Langereis, who said in his petition he is a professional artist who studied abroad for five years, claimed the committee picked entries from the Wisconsin painters and sculptors exhibit at the Milwaukee Art Institute March 31.

He said his attorney said, since he was deprived of an opportunity to compete by not belonging to the group that he had "suffered a loss of prestige in his profession as an artist."

Members of the LaFollette committee named in the complaint are: Elsa Ulbricht, chairman, Milwaukee State Teachers' college instructor; Armin Hansen, Milwaukee artist; Edward W. Thomas, artist and Milwaukee Teachers' college instructor; Oskar Hagen, University of Wisconsin professor; John Stuart Curry, resident artist at the University of Wisconsin; Myron C. Nutting, Milwaukee artist, and Charlotte Partridge, director of the Layton School of Art.

UNWANTED GIRL
Six-weeks old Thelma Josephine is an unwanted babe because she is a girl. She was born into a family of five boys at Phoenix, Ariz., and the father forbade the mother to bring her home because "I'll have only boys in my house." The infant, in the arms of Nurse Beulah Saxman, is being cared for by a clinic superintendent.

Council to Set Election Date
Recall Petitions Will be Before Aldermen Next Monday

Kaukauna—A special meeting of the common council has been called for Monday night to set a date for the recall election involving Mayor John Niesen, it was announced today by Harry McAndrews, city attorney.

The recall election is sought by 950 Kaukauna voters who filed petitions with County Judge Fred V. Heinemann asking the recall of Mayor Niesen. The petition was certified Wednesday and returned to the common council.

The election must be held not less than 40 nor more than 50 days after the council received the certified petitions. Unless he resigns, Mayor Niesen will automatically become a candidate. His opponent or opponents must file nomination papers just as in regular elections.

Mr. McAndrews said this morning that the election probably would be held Tuesday, July 6, although the council must make the final decision.

Jamboree Scouts to Publish 16-Page Tabloid Newspaper

Many Boy Scouts aspiring to be newspaper reporters, editors, cartoonists or news photographers will have real experiences this summer when they publish a daily morning newspaper, the "Jamboree Journal," at their national jamboree camp at Washington, D. C. The jamboree will start June 30 and close July 9.

The 16-page illustrated tabloid newspaper will have a daily circulation of 50,000 copies. It will be edited and illustrated by Boy Scouts and their leaders who are members of Boy Scout Press clubs and the paper will be printed on the presses of one of the Washington daily newspapers.

While the jamboree opens June 30 there will be hundreds of troops at the 850-acre camp a day or two before then. The "Jamboree Journal" will make its first appearance the morning of June 29. That and ten subsequent issues will be a permanent record for the 25,000 Boy Scouts coming from every state and from 24 foreign lands.

Before sunrise a circulation staff of older scouts will speed the editions to the 20 sectional camps each housing 1,200 scouts and leaders. This group will also see to it that each morning thousands of copies are mailed to local hotels and placed on sale in local libraries as thousands of visitors are expected to see the largest scout activity ever held in the western hemisphere.

The "Jamboree Journal" will omit the news of the world, leaving that to regular newspapers of Washington, and no advertising will be accepted. It will, however, endeavor to carry as much news of the jamboree as is possible and include complete daily programs, cartoons and sketches, editorials, jamboree comic strips and feature articles. Highlights of the jamboree that will be "big news" will include the opening review of the jamboree troops on Constitution avenue by President Roosevelt and other leading persons at the nation's capital, a convocation at the Washington Monument on the evening of July 4, the pageants, demonstrations, and excursions and finally the closing campfire on the night of July 8. The final issue of the "Jamboree Journal" will come from the presses the morning of July 9, and right after lunch many contingents will head for home.

Sentenced for Setting Fire on Another's Land
Kenosha—(U)—County Judge Roscoe Luce, Elkhorn, Walworth county, sentenced Raymond W. Heidtman, 32 Milwaukee salesman, to a term of one to two years in the state prison for violation of the state law which prohibits starting fires on another's property without the owner's consent.

The sentence carried with it the provision that Heidtman would be placed on probation upon payment of expenses and court costs.

Deputy State Fire Marshal William Greenwald said Heidtman started a grass fire at Silver Lake, destroying the summer home of Benjamin Glave, Chicago.

Mattoon Woman Is District Chief of Legion Auxiliary

Conference Is Held at Waupaca, With Nearly 200 Attending

Waupaca—The Eighth district conference of the American Legion auxiliary was held at Castle hall Thursday, the first conference of the kind to be held at Waupaca since 1928.

The morning session was called to order by Mrs. Paul Krueger, district president. Following the presentation of colors by the two sergeants of the local unit, Mrs. Paul Overm and Mrs. Paul Williams, and the salute and pledge to the flag, Dr. H. L. Lewis led the group singing.

F. R. Fisher, mayor of Waupaca, who had been invited to extend greetings to the conference was unable to be present, and his place was filled by Walter Nelson, city clerk.

Addresses of welcome were extended by Charles Yost, commander of the O'Neill Ballard post, and Mrs. Paul Thatcher, president of the local auxiliary. The response was made by Mrs. M. W. Hilgendorf, Almond, Portage county president. Roll call found nearly 200 present.

The rest of the morning was given over to election of officers, the memorial service and committee appointments and announcements.

Following a dinner held at St. Mary's Catholic church the conference reconvened at the hall at 1:15. Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Racine, department president, addressed the gathering on "Membership." Mrs. Cora Brown, Milwaukee, department secretary on "Poppies," and Mrs. Albertson, Milwaukee, on "Child Welfare."

Dance numbers were interspersed during the afternoon's program by members of Mrs. LaVerne Peterson's class: Gale Steiger, and Kay Clausen, Weyauwega, and Bernadine Simpson, Grethe and LaVerne Peterson, Jr., Waupaca.

Tea was served before adjournment by the hostess unit, Mesdames Ralph High and A. J. Hancock pouring.

Officers elected for the district for the coming year were: Mrs. Esther Hemingsway, Mattoon, president; Mrs. Leota Towle, Stratford, vice president; Mrs. O. Svenson, Iowa, chairman; Mrs. M. W. Helgendorf, Almond, historian.

County presidents, all of whom were present, are Mrs. Leota Towle, Stratford, Marathon county; Mrs. M. W. Helgendorf, Almond, Portage county; Mrs. Charles Hemingsway, Mattoon, Shawano county; Mrs. Anna Spiegel, Marion, Waupaca county; Mrs. A. H. McLaughlin, Coloma, Waushara county, and Mrs. A. J. Crowns, Nekeosa, Wood county.

Definition of a Drunk Differs in Many Cases

BY WESTBROOK FEGLER

Washington—The Delaware legislature has censured your correspondent for believing that some of the statesmen were tight on the closing night of the recent regular session when the lower house clean forgot to pass the customary appropriation for the support of the public schools. And, according to the accepted Delaware standard, established in 1875, your correspondent owes the honorable body an apology which is hereby tendered.

The accepted Delaware standard was established by a character witness in a case before Chancellor Nickerson, an historic Delaware jurist who still lives. On that occasion, the witness was asked if the defendant had been drunk. He answered, "No," and the prosecution then asked, "When do you consider a man to be drunk?"

"A man is drunk," the character witness said, "when he lies on the ground and clutches the grass to hang on."

This definition differs only in minor particulars from the pre-war army definition cited by General Hugh Johnson from the testimony of a sergeant before a court martial.

"The man was not drunk," said the sergeant, "because when I kicked him, he moved."

Reliable informants advise your correspondent that no member of the Delaware legislature lay on the ground and clutched the grass to hang on during the closing hours of the recent regular session when the house forgot to pass the appropriation for the schools. It is true that some of the members lay unconscious in their chairs but they may have been overcome in knitting the ravellied sleeve in innocent slumber.

School Bill Probably was Mistaken in House

And furthermore, nobody kicked any of them to see if they would move so it is impossible to apply the army standard. The lights were turned off from time to time and a recess was taken while a number of members formed an escort to conduct a distinguished colleague to the train for New York. And, finally, in the confusion, the school appropriation bill undoubtedly was mislaid somewhere between the senate and the house, a curious occurrence, indeed, in a body of statesmen with nothing to do but stay awake and mumble, "Aye."

Reliable informants state that the standards of the Delaware highway police, which are much more fastidious than the old formula of the man clutching the grass to hang on to the ground, might have caught some of the statesmen on closing night. The difficulty there, however, is that while a man in a certain condition may be considered unfit to drive a car there is no similar limitation in any American legislature, including the national congress.

Members Argue As To Bill Being Presented

Although legislation is a dangerous device in the hands of the incoherent, a statesman's right to legislate cannot be challenged even though he be drunk, by the old Delaware or the old army standard, a fact which may explain some of the peculiar laws handed down at each session of the law-making bodies.

As to the confusion of closing night, the legislature has offered no credible explanation. An official of the senate insists that the appropriation bill was delivered to the house and that a receipt was taken. The members of the lower house, however, had no recollection of voting it through and, with the

Plan Abandonment Of 15 CCC Camps

Enrolment Under Quota Is Reason for Discontinuance

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Approximately 15 Civilian Conservation Corps camps in Wisconsin are scheduled to be abandoned by June 30, Director Robert Fegner has informed Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Madison.

Eleven CCC camps which have been operating under supervision of the forestry service in Wisconsin have already been designated for closing and LaFollette expects to be informed soon of the other camps to be discontinued.

Forestry CCC camps in Wisconsin scheduled for closing are located as follows: Eagle River, Phillips in Price county, Marengo, Hayward, Westboro, Newald, Wabeno, Merrillan, Phillips in Sawyer county, Star Lake and Crivitz. Approximately 60 forestry CCC camps are to be abandoned in the country as a whole.

Reason for discontinuing some of the camps is given as the fact that while enrollment is now authorized at 350,000, the quota is about 30,000 short. Boys in camps to be abandoned will be transferred to other camps, it is understood.

In selecting camps for discontinuation, authorities have chosen those where the work is most nearly completed, Fegner said.

at the annual services in the church at 7:30 Sunday evening.

"The New Frontiers" will be the sermon topic. During the services the glee club sextet will sing an anthem. Members of the sextet are Helen Olson, Jane Knowles, Harriet Nienhaus, Verna Zuehlke, Virginia Grancobitz and Betty Neuschaefer.

Word was received here that Sergeant Frederick Wurzbach, son of Henry Wurzbach, Weyauwega, who is stationed at Camp Dix in Pennsylvania, was at Lakehurst, N. J., when the Hindenburg crashed. With several army men, stationed a few miles away, he drove to see the dirigible arrive, was under it when explosion came and ran to avoid being hit by it. Going back, he and his companions helped carry passengers out of the zeppelin.

SCOT PUPILS GET MILK

Scotland is extending to remote parts of the country its plan to give every pupil pure milk. Those in the Borden counties of Berwick, Roxbury and Selkirk have just received their first milk from tuberculin-tested cows. It is sold to them at a reduced price of three cents a pint.

Dog Owners Grooming Pets For Annual All-City Show

Dogs, with pedigrees and without pedigrees, are being groomed for the second annual all-city dog show to be staged by the Appleton chapter of the Izaak Walton league at Pierce park Sunday afternoon.

No dogs can be shown unless entered on an official form, and all blanks must be returned by Saturday noon. L. H. Dillon, general chairman, has announced. A record entry of about 200 dogs is expected.

Three judges will select the winners. L. T. Wallen, Appleton, will judge Boston terriers, Otis Hayes, Neenah, all other terriers, and F. L. Fadner, Neenah, sporting dogs and working dogs. The three judges will work together in selecting the best dog of the show.

A special prize will be offered for the best trick dog shown, and several are expected to perform.

Judging will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon in two rings, and will continue steadily until all entries have been shown.

An additional feature of the event will be the showing of a motion picture.

Commencement at Dale School to be Held Monday Night

Dale—The Dale Graded school will hold its commencement exercises at the Royal Neighbor hall Monday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. The upper room will give two plays, "Quizzing A Quack" and "The Heavenly Twins." The lower room will have plays and singing. The tap dancers also will dance.

Mrs. Kathryn Bergman has returned to her home after visiting in Milwaukee for one week.

High Ridge Students Make Perfect Records

All pupils of High Ridge school, town of Greenville, had perfect attendance records during the last 6-week period of the school year, Miss Ruth Paschen, teacher, has reported to F. P. Young, county superintendent. They are Earl Pingel, Alvin Hankemeier, Betty Krueger, Harold Schroeder, Marilyn Pingel, Ruth Hankemeier, David Hankemeier, Ruby Schroeder and Armond Lemke.

Two men, one of them armed with a revolver, held up a moving picture theatre in Dundalk, Irish Free State, and demanded the film of "Clive of India," which was being shown there. Only two employees were present at the time and they were compelled to turn over four reels.

Absolve Alcohol Administration of Playing Favorites

Government Rum Makers Must Obey Rules, Lawrence Informed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—The Federal Alcohol administration has let it be known that it is playing no favorites and that agencies of the government concerned with the making of Virgin Islands rum must conform to the regulations set forth by the government.

A few days ago, A. K. Hamilton and company, one of the domestic rum makers who feel that the government is entering into competition with them by subsidizing the making of rum in the Virgin Islands, sent Mr. Hamilton copies of the Federal Alcohol administration. He stated his complaints were of no avail. But the FAA disputes this and courteously furnishes me with copies of their letters to the New York distributor of the Virgin Islands rum and to the A. K. Hamilton company, pointing out that on both April 19 and 20 they had taken "appropriate action."

It appears that the announcements sent out by the distributors of the Virgin Islands rum had already gone to press in various trade publications and could not be recalled, but that assurance was given the FAA that the particular references complained of would not be repeated.

The record appears clearly to absolve the FAA of any favoritism just because another department of the government has gone into the rum-making business in competition with private rum-makers. But this does not dispose of the embarrassment which undoubtedly has been caused the FAA by the fact that a member of the president's cabinet is sponsoring the sale of a product known as "Government House Rum."

Use Government Name
Nobody has as yet filed a protest with the FAA because the name "government" is being employed to describe the rum to prospective buyers, and it is doubtful whether the FAA would have any right to forbid it because, after all, the truth is the government is making the rum.

On the other hand, this opens up a question as to the rights of the private makers of rum. Since they cannot prevent the Roosevelt administration from employing taxpayers' money to compete with other taxpayers, the only course left to them is to put out their wares as being as good as the government product.

One of the selling arguments used by the Virgin Islands rum makers is that the federal government put up the money so as to help the islands with their relief problem.

Private rum makers inside the United States would seem to have the right to ask the public to buy their products because the taxes collected go to support the federal treasury, and the latter in turn spends huge quantities of it to aid persons on relief.

Brand Is Problem
The chief difficulty is that the private rum makers have no brand name which is quite as appealing as one with the word "government" in it. Inasmuch as this is their real problem, maybe they haven't begun to be as aggressive competitors of the government as they might be.

Thus it would appear that there is no reason why the private rum makers shouldn't get out a rum and call it "congressional rum" or, if that is too general a term, it might be called "senate rum."

There's a brand of beer by that name heretofore already.

Then there's a train called the "congressional limited" and nobody has as yet called it misleading or improper, even though it is conceded that very little that is congressional is ever limited.

Might Use "New Deal"
Also there's a "White House Coffee" and there could be a "White House Rum" because both are in the beverage class. It might, of course, be argued that any such titles would give the impression that the White House had something to do with the making of the rum. The truth is the federal government is in the rum business because the Roosevelt administration in general and the department of the interior in particular put it there. So perhaps the most accurate title for a brand after all would be "New Deal Rum."

Looking in the telephone books of our big cities, one finds many businesses which style themselves "New Deal." So it might be that the solution for the private rum makers is to meet competition in the old-fashioned American way, not by urging the government agencies here to abolish the competition, but to welcome it and prove to the American people—now that the administration sanctions the drinking of rum by engaging in the liquor business—that when better rums are made, the American rum makers will make them.

Current Legislature Qualifies as Chief Advice-Giver to U. S. Congress

Madison—(P)—The Wisconsin legislature, apparently determined to keep its title as champion dispenser of advice to the nation's lawmakers, is grinding out memorials to congress at a record pace.

So far this session—in four months—the legislators have speeded 31 memorials on their way to congressional halls, and so numerous senators and assemblymen contend, to gather dust during undisturbed repose in pigeonholes of congressional committee desks.

Howard F. Ohm, chief of the legislative reference library—the "bill factory"—said today the quantity of memorials has been swelling greatly in the last decade.

The former peak was reached in the marathon session of 1935, which lasted more than eight months during which 29 memorials were dispatched to congress, in addition to eight memorials to various federal agencies.

Before that, the total of 26 in 1931, was the top figure. The 1919 legislature, urging congress to care for former soldiers and speed the return of doughboys from France, sent along 19 bits of legislative advice. A quarter of a century ago, in 1911, the legislature passed 15 memorials. Fifty years ago, in 1867, the total was only 11.

Most of the memorials are resolutions asking congress to enact or repeal pending legislation. Many are repeaters, each recent session producing a memorial regarding the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway, and another about oleomargarine, which also was the subject of a memorial back in 1867.

At least one historic memorial was introduced this session, although the assembly quickly tabled it. Offered by Assemblyman Elmer Genzmer (D), Mayville, it asked congress to ask the Wisconsin legislature to mind its own business.

Despite the frequent assertion that memorials to congress fail of their purpose, and the advice of the clerk of the United States senate that they probably are not worth the money and effort, few expressions on that subject have been heard on the floor of either legislative house.

Only last week, however, Senator Marvin Duell (P), Fond du Lac, took the senate to task for indulging in this favorite past-time. He called memorials "preposterous nonsense." But the practice continues, and the 1937 session leads all the rest.

RESERVE TRAINING

The state convention of the Wisconsin Reserve Officers' association at La Crosse last week-end and the observance this week of National R.O.T.C. week brings to the forefront the value of this branch of the United States army.

The American army is divided into three distinct groups, the Regular Army, the various National Guard units, and finally the Organized Reserves. However, it is not the value of these reserves to the national army, but the inherent value of such a movement to the young men who are enrolled in it that we would stress.

In the face of radical and idealistic pacifist campaigns throughout the country these students in military academies and universities and other young men out of school are receiving courses in military training and discipline which are invaluable to the formation of character among young men and which form in reality a workable and realistic peace movement.

There is nothing like the efficient and orderly routine of army discipline to build strong character and strong bodies. Surprisingly enough it does not turn out militarily minded citizens, gnashing to get their hands on the sword; rather it produces straightforward, honest, frank young men who have a healthy respect for the actualities of war and a disciplined desire for peace.

The extreme pacifists in our schools and universities are almost wholly a group of foppish, sophisticated youths who have a horror of discipline whether it be either physical, mental or moral. None of them are found among the products of the R.O.T.C.

Extreme pacifism is an attitude faddishly adopted through ignorance of realities and an unwillingness to appreciate that peaceful government must be built on an orderly, sane and disciplined basis.

Typical of the inconsistency of student pacifist movements was the recent action of a group of students at Columbia university, about 1,000 of whom attended a peace rally and raised their hands to take the Oxford oath not to support the American government in any way. Immediately afterward they voted by acclaim to send a cablegram to Spain pledging support to the Spanish loyalists.

This country should acquaint itself thoroughly with the work being done by the R.O.T.C. and appreciate the fact that here is a group of stiff-backed young men who will provide America with a reliable crop of future citizens.

THE BATTLE OF THE BOTTLE AND THE CAN

The ups and downs of hazards and uncertainties of industrial ventures were perhaps never better or quicker pictured in a country's panorama of commerce than in what might be called the slugging contest between the bottle and the can.

About three years ago America's great canning companies invaded the new business of providing containers for beer. The people looked on with a little doubt. Would they like their beer in cans? It didn't seem altogether likely, yet there is hardly anything the American prefers to something new.

The great glass plants turned to their noses but they were concerned just the same. Having come into some good business with the burial of prohibition and after long years on the desert they did not fancy the bright idea of the can companies.

For a while the cans went over well. When used they could be tossed aside. They were so much easier to carry and demanded much less room. Yet there were fond recollections in spots of bottles and there were those who sighed for the old method.

But the hardest blow to the cans probably came from the very same thing that gave them the upper hand, that is inventive genius. The bottle makers started making a much more practical and sensible bottle. They pulled in its long neck that took so much room. Now it fits well into cardboard cases so there are no bulky boxes to return. Gradually the bottle recovered lost territory. Persistently it keeps hammering away for further territory.

The effect of the battle is plainly to be seen in the financial statements of the companies involved. The can stocks have been falling. The glass stocks have been holding their own. Sizable breweries have quit using the cans, much to the joy of the bottlers.

The episode is only a skirmish in the continual battle of industry for business. Nor is it necessarily the final skirmish. The can companies may be able again to take the offensive. A new generation without fond recollections in relation to bubbling bottles may prefer cans.

In the balance lies tens of millions of dollars invested as capital in buildings and machinery to take care of the expected business. The loser may make a grimace but accepts the results as merely the consequences of another day's effort.

Industry is willing to accept tremendous losses when a plan or judgment happens to go awry. It has had its opportunity, its day, its fling. If the tide of battle goes against it what is the use of tears?

"FOR A THAT AND A THAT—"

Edward, branded as brandied and admittedly levelheaded, continues to provide further ferment to a people who after the excitement and commotion of the recent coronation desire nothing more than to drink their ale in peace and quiet interrupted only by an occasional puff at an ancient pipe.

The trouble is over the method of speaking approach to Mrs. Edward. Shall it be "Your Highness" or "Your Royal Highness." A worthy matter for dispute and consternation, no doubt, a suitable puzzle for the League of Nations or perhaps a just cause for war of some sort and worthy of mental somersaults of a Brain Trust.

In our own country we are not at all particular about things of this sort. In time, after neurotics are around begging for jobs and political leaders keep their words and other signs of the millennium are on the skies, we will probably make this matter of titles and addresses an issue worthy of a democratic people.

Today any lawyer is called Judge even if he never got near enough to the bench to lean upon it. Yet he does not complain if a saloon-keeping candidate for justice of the peace adopts the same moniker. His pride is untouched and his spirits unruffled. The title of Doc goes to everyone from the topmost surgeon and diagnostician down to the boy who sweeps out the drug store and who thrills at the odor of medicine around his person. Colonel belongs to everyone who goes into the army even if when he got as high as corporal he was broken for going AWOL with a dizzy blond rolling china blue eyes.

But the trouble with the British people is fundamental and has to do with a lethargy in abandoning traditions that appear glorious for the more humorous aspects of a world that is really worth living in.

Nor is this said in any sense of criticism. A people who keep their head and stay on their feet while under attack from every part of the globe and involved in every furious controversy must be entitled to their weakness, their little hour of frivolity.

Indeed, without it, they would likely crack.

MADISON NEEDS THE CONFERENCE

Yesterday the tenth annual Fox River Valley & Lake Shore Safety Conference was held at Oshkosh.

It was sobered by the fact that 794 people were killed last year in Wisconsin in automobile accidents and that the coldest sort of statistics now establish "that one out of every three children will be either killed or injured in an automobile accident."

These conferences are excellent affairs. They have been responsible for many improvements. And the principle of them should be extended.

We would like to see the legislature of Wisconsin turn itself into such a conference, quit political bickerings and personalities, turn away from even new tax measures as well as every other sort of legislation, and consider Senator Cashman's motor vehicle bill and discuss it with all the trained men, the highway police and the highway officials who are in close touch with road problems, highway accidents, and their principal causes, and bring us regulation that can be made effective.

For the killings are getting out of hand. They do not react to treatment. The fever is running higher. Any physician would tell you that it is time for a change of treatment.

Accident addicts, callow youths, drunk drivers and certain other classes must be dealt with sternly and with finality. Cancellation of licenses and road privileges cannot be treated in machine-like fashion. We would think the way to save 800 lives a year and thousands of maimed would be to remove the principal causes.

When John Brady, aged two, fell into a ten-foot manhole containing water, at Clones, Irish Free State, Dolores Davey, aged eight, saved his life by seizing him by the hair, a rescuer finding Dolores exhausted, but still gripping the boy's hair.

Sheep are to be transported by airplane across desert regions of Australia to the fertile Barkly Tableland in the northern part, a special German Diesel-engine machine capable of carrying 100 animals at a time having been purchased.

St. Anne's Lodge, Bute, a beautiful seventeenth-century Scots mansion, was sold recently at Glasgow, Scotland, for $1,375, the purchaser, John McMahon, admitting he had never seen the place but was attracted by the low price.

Skeletons of a large school of six-inch fish, trapped by some unknown catastrophe millions of years ago, have been found fossilized in a diatomic deposit near Lempoc, Calif.

YESTERDAY was May the twentieth, and, when I went down to fix the fire (Alaska papers, please copy) the slightly insane thought that I should be reading about football games and wondering what I should start saving up to get for the better half's Christmas present . . . of course, the fact that I have been going down to fix the fire since early last fall may have something to do with it . . . prolonged sessions of such occupation may have taken their toll on my none too robust mental condition, although physically, I can now flip coal like a stoker . . . however, I should be a total flop as a filler of coal for a living . . . the brain just couldn't stand the monotony . . .

That, however, does not bar me from a job of lying comfortably on a beach and watching the wild waves come rolling in. There are different sized waves, you see, and, every so often, a calm takes place.

It must have been the waffles I had for lunch.

All of the furor about strip teasers—the reaction has now spread from New York to Chicago—reminds me of a very special picture in my possession, one I snapped in Milwaukee at the time of Gypsy Rose Lee's appearance there in the Folies. Yes sir and ma'am—I have a picture of Gypsy Rose Lee with her clothes ON.

Senator Joe Robinson is said to be one of the leading candidates for the post on the Supreme court to be vacated next month by Justice Van Devanter. As usual, complications are arising. Senator Robinson has been one of Mr. Big's best yes-men and a wizard at controlling the senate. That makes the conservatives worried about him. He, however, had an ultra-conservative record before the accession of Franklin to the throne, and there is no guarantee that he won't lapse back to form in the safety of the court. That worries the liberals.

Meanwhile, the debts pile up, the spending goes on, and the headache gets nearer and nearer. That's what worries you and me. There's no doubt about who's to pay the bills, sooner or later, or who's to suffer bankruptcy if the bills are not paid. Just us, folks, just us.

THE CHURCH CHOIR

I love the songs the church choir sings.
Upon their voices my hopes rise,
And I can feel my spirit's wings
Grow stronger for life's enterprise.

The blending of their melodies
In one celestial, soaring strain
Brings to this hour the harmonies
I strive in my life to attain.

I love the sweet, old-fashioned hymns
That breathe sincerity and truth.
The present troubled vista dims,
And I am back in my glad youth.

!Soothed by the memory of days
When hopeful paths were blossoming.
I join the choir's hymn of praise,
And find new courage when they sing.

DEGENERATION IS DETERIORATION

It took many years of education to make reporters stop using the word "degeneration" (which means loss of speech) when they meant amnesia, which means loss of memory. It will take years to make them stop using the word "moron" (which means stupid, feeble-minded) when they mean depraved, vicious, immoral or criminal. The great majority of morons are good citizens and in proportion with the general population they commit no more offenses against morals and law than do people of average or better-than-average intelligence.

Degeneration is deterioration, sinking from a higher to a lower level, a pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the normal function is impaired or lost. Physiologically or medically the changes occurring in cells and tissues of the body of the individual in the early or incipient stage of arteriosclerosis is degeneration.

If this retrogressive pathological change is recognized before too much damage has been done, it is possible not only to arrest the process but even to reverse it and bring about regeneration and rejuvenation. A man is as old as his arteries, a woman as old as she looks without make-up.

Mortality statistics for several decades have seemed to indicate that, while the infectious diseases have been steadily decreasing in prevalence and the toll of lives taken by such diseases and their sequelae has gradually declined, the degenerative diseases, notably cardiovascular degenerations (arteriosclerosis, heart disease, apoplexy, angina pectoris, Bright's disease) have become rather more prevalent and have disabled and destroyed a larger proportion of the population.

This apparent increase in the tendency to degenerate may be partly due to more accurate diagnosis today, but not altogether. It signifies one important thing quite clearly: that is, public health provisions and sanitary regulations take care of the infectious diseases, but the degenerative diseases can be prevented only thru personal hygiene. Within reasonable limitations it is up to every one to decide for himself whether he shall spend his youth in wrong living or keep it to lighten the sunset of his years. Altho the older medical authors ascribed early onset of cardiovascular degeneration to the inheritance of bad material for the tubing (the arteries) they nevertheless added that more commonly the premature aging results from the bad use of good vessels. Certainly you can't blame grandfather for the alcohol, tobacco, over-eating, syphilis, lead, repression of the fight-or-flight emotion, and the strain and stress of your unnatural mode of life.

From the purely physical (not merely moral) point of view, it is sound medicine to say that the state of a man's arteries is an index of his personal hygiene. Cardiovascular degeneration is largely one's own making. To a majority of men death comes thru this portal—25 per cent of all who die after forty. Don't begin dying yet awhile.

You gave the number of calories in beer and cocktails. Please give the number of calories in a glass of wine. Advised to drink glassful port wine daily to improve my health, is there any difference in dry or sweet wine? M. M. P.

Answer—Glass of port wine (3 1/2 to 4 ounces) yields approximately 165 calories, one-half of which is from the alcohol—if your metabolism can oxidize that much alcohol.

Seen And Heard

In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York—The gypsy problem was bad in New York: as usual, last winter, but they got out much earlier than hoped for this spring. Gypsies seem to think there is no place like New York for hibernating during the cold months, and, much as they are unwanted, there isn't a thing the authorities can do about it.

Many of them stay in respectable neighborhoods, paying sumptuously for apartments, but not in the style you would suppose. And that's the annoyance. They have fences, or go-between, unknown to the real estate agents.

For instance, a well-dressed fellow of good appearance will lease an apartment for the winter, paying cash. To the real estate people's chagrin, however, he doesn't move in. Instead, perhaps 20 or 25 gypsies will move into a four-room apartment. They sleep four and five to a bed, doubling up on pallets on the floor, and living like pigs in an atmosphere originally created for gentility.

As soon as the neighbors become aware of the calamity there is always a howl and many angry storms of protest, but there isn't anything anybody can do. If the real estate people attempt to evict, a suave lawyer appears with a copy of the lease, or contract, duly signed before witnesses. Thus legally protected, they stay till the summer urge returns.

Happily, this has been a mild winter, and the caravans—not the picturesque wagons of yore but fast limousines—have hit the road at an early date, making for the southwest, where the hot climate and long distance between towns is more to their liking.

Gypsies are a dirty lot, however much one may admire them for the wealth of romantic lore they represent. As a rule they are regarded as thieves, and they almost never think of taking a bath or of changing clothes until their linen rots on their bodies. They have no respect for law, they conform to no regulations save those necessary to save their skins, and their livelihood often is gained through bartering and theft.

Literature is filled with romantic tales of fabulously beautiful and chaste gypsy maids.

If such damsels exist I would greatly admire seeing one. In the last five or six years I have seen some thousands of gypsies, but never one that could even remotely be called beautiful. But then, maybe that was because of the dirt. Beauty just cannot be seen when it is covered up—even on gypsies.

Rockmark received its name because at one time it was Georgia's largest market for rock.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVER

Washington—Inch at a time more light is being thrown on President Roosevelt's price policies; but it may help to draw a map of his course.

The ring-around-the-rosy of price cycles is only one phase of the business cycle but administration efforts to check the violence of the business cycle recently have been directed at the price phase.

Consumer goods become a drug on the market when consumers lose their jobs or much of their income. Prices, as a result, spiral downward, except possibly monopoly-controlled prices, which are another story. When consumer goods prices are low, there is little incentive for factories to manufacture them, and even less incentive for investors to start building or enlarging factories.

The Upward Turn
At the bottom of the depression price-dip, government spending, pressure of necessity and other factors begin pushing up consumer demand. These factors initiate an upturn in the business cycle. So far, so good.

The demand for consumer goods grows to a point where factories take on more help, buy more materials, and cause more employment and more purchasing power. Ultimately more factories seem necessary, and look profitable.

Building and enlarging of factories calls on the heavy goods industries for structural materials. Employment increases rapidly when the upturn invades that field.

In turn this increased employment demands more consumer goods—food, shoes, household furnishings, clothes, that sort of thing. Prices rise because consumers bid against each other. All the time the consuming power is increasing, inciting more factory building, more employment, and yet more consumer power—a cycle within a cycle.

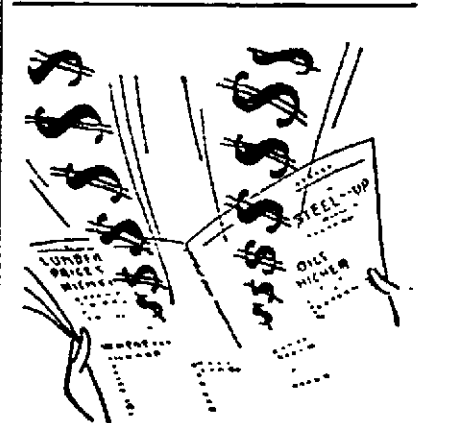

But it takes time for the new factories to get into production so the supply of consumer goods is not increased as fast as the demand. Usually this puts prices of consumer goods up higher than producer goods, the stuff that goes into factories. Yet this demand for consumer goods incites fast investment for new factories, and competition for producer goods booms.

Three Ideas
At this point the administration has stepped in with two control gestures. President Roosevelt said the usual course of such price cycles had been disturbed by foreign buying of steel and like supplies in competition with factory builders. Prices of certain producer goods were too high, he said. He stopped public works spending in that field.

Governor Eccles of the federal reserve board, while recognizing the growing demand for producer goods, declined to let interest rise on money used for buying them. High interest rates increase costs of building factories and so increase the cost of consumer goods ultimately produced. Factories built with borrowed money are often first to shut down as prices drop and so aggravate the recession.

Secretary Wallace says higher taxes and wages must be paid to keep excessive savings from piling up in the hands of investors. These investors will want to build more factories than are needed, flush the land with an over supply of consumer goods and so start the downward price cycle before its time.

Does it all dovetail?

This issue of the Appleton Post-Crescent will bear us out

That lumber, copper, steel and cotton have gone up in cost and that men's clothing is on the same elevator.

Meanwhile, here we sit with the largest stock of fine clothing we ever purchased for one season and every garment is owned at from $4 to $8 under today's replacement cost.

Today we look the clothing buyers of Appleton in the eye and say: Gentlemen, we haven't raised and don't intend to . . . we plan to let our good fortune produce dividends in more men rather than more money.

List Possible Candidates for U.S. Court Jobs

Groups From Which New Justices Would Be Chosen Is Suggested

Washington — The group from which President Roosevelt will select the six new supreme court justices, if congress enacts his court expansion plan, is named today by George Creel, Washington correspondent for Collier's, who several times in the past has been privileged to forecast administration moves.

Scores of names have been suggested," says Mr. Creel, "many of them by the modest candidates themselves. But the inner circle of the administration is finally agreed that selections will be made from this list:

Felix Frankfurter, 54, of Harvard.

James M. Landis, 37, chairman of SEC.

Donald R. Richberg, 55, former general counsel for NRA.

Stanley Reed, 52, solicitor general of the United States.

Robert H. Jackson, 45, assistant attorney general.

William O. Douglas, 38, member, SEC.

Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., 57, 5th circuit court of appeals.

Joseph Warren Madden, 47, chairman of NLRB.

Robert M. Hutchins, 38, president, University of Chicago.

Judge Sam G. Bratton, 48, 10th circuit court of appeals.

Lloyd Garrison, 39, dean of the Wisconsin Law school.

Charles Fahy, 44, chief counsel for NLRB.

Dean Acheson, 44, former under-secretary of the treasury.

Judge John J. Burns, 38, special counsel, Maritime commission.

"Along with speculation as to the identity of the new justices, assuming that the reorganization plan is approved," Mr. Creel says, "the thing that has more exercised official Washington and the senate is the nature of the guarantee with respect to the conduct of the men after appointment.

But as a matter of truth, the president would seem to be taking no chances with the fourteen men here considered. It is not that they are 'stooges' by any means, but merely that every one is an ardent New Dealer, believing implicitly in the Roosevelt policies.

The president's principal worry, viewing the situation realistically, would not seem to be whether his appointees would stand fast, but whether the men he wants would accept appointment. If the veto power of the supreme court is to be surrendered except in cases where the constitution is explicit, not calling for interpretation, it follows inevitably that the tribunal will cease to be the august body that it has been in the past.

"In view of this diminishment of power, this distinct lessening of the position's importance, would Felix Frankfurter want to surrender his unique position at Harvard, or Hutchins quit his post as president of the University of Chicago, or Landis give up the job of dean of the Harvard Law school to which he has just been called? What also must be borne in mind is that while the president appoints, the senate confirms. Nothing is more certain than that every man named would have to run a gauntlet as savage as any ever devised by the Iroquois.

"There is a creeping whisper that at the last moment the president may decide to soften conservative opposition in the senate by naming either John W. Davis or Newton D. Baker or some other of their type. There is about as much chance of it as for the selection of Stalin or Trotsky. Having invited the fiercest fight of his life by demanding the right to have a supreme court majority that will reflect the 'popular will,' as expressed in the November elections, it is idiotic to assume that F. D. R. will forego a single advantage in event of victory."

Correct Physical Defects Before Next Term, Plea

Prepare Child for Beginning of School, County Nurse Asks

Clintonville — "Am I ready for school?" was the question asked by Miss Estelle Jung, Waupaca county nurse, who was speaking on behalf of the small child before the Parent-Teacher association Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium. Although it is more than four months before school will open in the fall, Miss Jung urged parents to think about the various corrections which may be necessary before the child is physically fit to begin its school career. Among the possible defects found in children of pre-school age, the chief ones are faulty vision, impaired hearing and poor teeth. In addition to the physical preparation for school, Miss Jung also advised parents to teach the child how to get along with others and how to do things for himself. The nurse also answered a number of questions asked in regard to the duties of a city nurse and a school nurse. Although the matter of hiring a city nurse has been rejected in a referendum at the spring election, a large number of local citizens are still interested in the project.

Proceeding the talk by Miss Jung, a soprano solo, "A Brown Bird Sings," was sung by Miss Betty Spiegel, and an alto solo, "The Rosary," was contributed by Miss Beverly Winchester. Both students were accompanied on the piano by their music instructor, Miss Edith Gray. Having won first places in the district music contests held recently at New London, the Misses Spiegel and Winchester will participate in the state contest at Madison on June 5.

After the program, a short business session was held during which Clarence Zachow was reelected president of the P. T. A. and Roy Martin was chosen first vice president to succeed Mrs. Arnold Schauder, who recently moved to Marshfield. Other officers reelected to their posts are A. L. Merrill, second vice president; Miss Helen Silverwood, secretary; and Miss Esther Hawkes, treasurer. This was the last meeting of the present school year.

A large crowd attended the concert given at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening by the orchestra, glee clubs and band. The groups presented the numbers which they will play in the district tournament at West DePere on Saturday. Over 100 young people from Clintonville will take part in the event and will be accompanied by a large delegation of parents and the instructors, Miss Edith Gray, vocal music; and Edson Stiles, orchestra and band.

Herman Brohm is ill at his home on E. Twelfth street following a paralytic stroke which he suffered Wednesday while at work at the Four Wheel Drive plant.

Several cases of scarlet fever are under quarantine in this city.

Mrs. Clara Brackob is a patient at St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, where she underwent a gall operation Thursday morning.

Mrs. Arthur Steenbock, S. J. Tillson, S. H. Sanford, W. T. Sanford, W. T. Luedtke, C. Fandry and Eric Peterson of the Clintonville unit of the American Legion Auxiliary attended the spring conference of the Eighth District Thursday at Waupaca. The state president of the American Legion auxiliary was present for the meeting.

Because of the rainy weather Thursday, no golf was played at the first "Ladies day" of the season at Riverside Golf club. Bridge entertained at the club house, there being five tables in play. Honors went to Mesdames Robert Olen, Carl Rulsh, L. A. Heuer and Roy Downham. The afternoon closed with the serving of lunch by Mesdames W. L. Gould, Julius Spearbraker and R. A. Greb.

The tournament committee for next Thursday will consist of Mrs. G. W. Soant, Mrs. Clarence Barker and Mrs. Harold Heuer.

Mrs. Roy Meizer was hostess to her club at a desert-bridge Thursday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Herman Kratzke on E. Seventh street.

Lower Insurance Rates Effective for Hilbert

Hilbert—Fire insurance agents of Hilbert on Wednesday received new rate books, showing considerable savings to village property owners. Since the new fire prevention system was put into operation, the protection system has been approved by the Fire Insurance Rating Bureau of Milwaukee.

On frame unapproved roofs of homes the old rate for one year was 34 cents and the new rate is 22 cents. Frame approved roofs were 23 cents and now the rate is 19 cents. In this class for three years the rate will be 49 cents and for five years 65 cents.

Holy Name society held its regular meeting at St. Mary's church last Wednesday evening.

The annual school picnic of St. Peter's Lutheran school will be held at Biemer's woods two miles east of Hilbert on Sunday. Services will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning. Games and other amusements will be featured in the afternoon.

St. John's congregation at St. John's Lutheran church will hold the first holy mass to be read by the Rev. Alfred Locher on Tuesday, May 23. He will be ordained at St. Francis on Saturday, May 22, by Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch of Milwaukee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Locher of St. John.

A group of Germania members of here attended the Germania meeting held at its hall at Chilton Thursday afternoon.

About thirty persons gathered at the Charles Loese home Tuesday evening as a surprise, the occasion being the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Loese.

Enter Musicians In District Meet At West DePere

New London Band Entered In Class B Competi- tion Tomorrow

New London — Seventy-eight members of the New London High school music group, band, orchestra and mixed chorus, are prepared to enter the district concert music festival at West DePere tomorrow. About 3,000 students from 34 schools are expected to compete.

The New London band has taken a first rating the past several years and though classified in Class C will compete in Class B. Several overture sections are in the Class A music list. The orchestra and chorus are representing the school for the first time, the former in Class D and the latter in Class C. The band also will appear in the huge parade at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon.

List Schedule

The band was scheduled to appear at St. Norbert's college gymnasium at 2:15 in the afternoon but efforts were made to have the hour changed and in all probability the group will play at 1:30 in the morning. The orchestra will go to the judges in St. Norbert's auditorium at 2:30 in the morning. The chorus was scheduled for 3:30 in the afternoon at St. John's Lutheran church.

The music students will travel to West DePere in the school bus and by private autos. It is planned to make two trips with the bus. The change was sought in the band schedule to enable the bus to carry the high school track team to Neenah where the boys will enter the conference meet tomorrow afternoon.

List Students

Following are the students who will take part in the contests as a member of one or more of the music groups: Loraine Baker, Simon Barlow, Harold Black, Maud Brown, Margaret Buss, Carolyn Calef, John Calef, Patricia Chegwin, Bessie Claassen, John Crain, Roy Crain, Emery Danke, Arthur Davy, Helen Davy, Mary Dawson, Audrey Dean, Betty Dean, George Demming, Wilma Dodge, Patricia Egan, Joseph Ferg, Veronica Fleas, Alan Frenstad, Douglas Frenstad.

Kenneth Freiburger, Evelyn Fritz, Valda Gehrk, Melvin Goll, Harold Gottfried, Vera Hall, Douglas Hanson, Arleen Hanke, Polly Hartquist, Jane Huebner, Clifford Hutchison, Tim Kellogg, Eunice Konrad, Edward Kruegel, Earl Lund, Henry McDaniel, Gordon Meiklejohn, Marjorie Miller, Delbert Otis, Gertrude Kloeit, Charly Popke, Lyle Quant, Arline Queeman, John Restle, Marguerite Rohan, Anita Roloff, Roland Rosenberg, Robert Rummenoff, Angeline Runge.

Orville Sanders, Gordon Schneider, Helen Schoenrock, John Seard, Jack Seering, Ned Sells, Rachel Spearbraker, Harold Spengler, Alice Stanley, Donald Stern, Edith St. George, Jean Talady, Opal Tate, Raymond Thieme, Eloise Thoren, Lois Vandenberg, Vera Walstrom, Jeanette Warnecke, Eugene Warnecke, Florence Wege, Winston Wells, Elizabeth Zernicke, Dorice Ziemer, Iona Zemple.

New London Society

New London — The first annual musician's ball of the New London Musician's local No. 300 of the American Federation of Labor will be held Monday night at the Brewery, one mile north of New London on Highway 45. Five bands will provide music.

The event was planned by the various band leaders and officers of the organization. Art Schmidt is president and William Schorweide secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Mark Madden won the bridge prize at the social meeting of the Knights of Columbus at the Catholic parish hall Wednesday evening. At schafkopf Mrs. Henry McDaniels and P. J. Dernbach won.

Mrs. Tom Smith entertained the Tuesday club yesterday afternoon. Prizes went to Mrs. Leonard Rice and Mrs. Sylvester Houk. Next week Mrs. Elwood Shirland will be hostess.

SPEEDER FINED

New London — Harold DeVaud, Oshkosh, driver of a transfer truck, paid a fine of $5 and costs in police court yesterday morning after he pleaded guilty to driving at excessive speed while passing through the city Wednesday afternoon. He was apprehended by New London police on Mill street.

VETS TO MEET

New London — The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Learman-Schaller post, will hold a regular business and social meeting at the clubrooms this evening. Plans will be made to send a delegation to the eighth district conference at Green Bay Sunday.

New London Office

News and circulation departments of the Appleton Post-Crescent are represented in New London by Alvin J. Brault, 103 E. Cook street. News items and orders for subscriptions may be left at that address or may be telephoned by calling 18. Papers missed by carriers will be delivered if complaint is made before 7 p. m.

HONOR STUDENTS AT MARION HIGH

Above are the honor students at Marion High school, Vilas Polzin (left), valedictorian, and William Opperman (right) salutatorian. Commencement exercises will be held June 3. Vilas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil B. Polzin of the town of Dupont, and William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Opperman of the town of Wyoming. Both were active in athletics and other extra-curricular affairs.

Make Baskets for Summer Bathhouse

Students Construct 500 Wooden Boxes for Holding Clothes

New London — Manual Arts II classes at Washington High school yesterday undertook the task of nailing together more than 500 wooden boxes for use as clothes baskets in the new bathhouse at the pool of the Hatten Community Recreation park. A. F. Christ, instructor, said the boys would complete as many boxes as they can during the few remaining days of school and some arrangement probably would be made to complete the boys after the close of school next week.

Material for the boxes was delivered at the school yesterday by the Edison Wood Products company who finished the wood into the proper pieces for assembly. The latter lumber company furnished the raw lumber.

The boxes are assembled from two end pieces, with the bottom made up of one to three panels and each side consisting of half a dozen small slats. The manual arts boys are looking forward to plenty of experience in nailing, a method which is used little in ordinary class work.

Guess Who's and Forget-Me-Nots In Title Finals

New London — The Guess Who's captained by Evan Stern defeated the No Names of Marshall Otis in the final rounds of the intramural softball games at Washington High school Wednesday evening and capped first place in Class A with three victories in five games. The Forget-Me-Nots defeated the Snapdragons and tied for first place in Class B. Each won five games and lost one. Wednesday's winners are led by Kenneth Ross and the Snapdragons by Glen Smith.

The first place tie will be played off this afternoon and the all-school championship will be decided between the Class A and B winners next Wednesday. Class A is hoped to win but upsets may be expected.

Peter Laux's Buttercups and Robert Stewart's Daffodils tied for last place in Class B with only one win apiece.

MAN WANDERS IN MINE

Losing his memory, Andrew Campbell of Parkneuk, Scotland, wandered for more than 24 hours in the underground workings of Brairhall coal mine. When he did not return home at his usual time a search was organized. It was found that he had wandered through most of the tunnels of the vast mine.

Clarence Hockers Buys Brick Yard

A. O. Zerrenner Retires After 40 Years in The Business

New London — A. O. Zerrenner, brickmaker at New London for nearly 40 years, announced his retirement from the business this week with the completion of a transaction in which Clarence Hockers, De Pere, became the new owner of the Zerrenner Brick yard a mile north of the city.

Hockers has been operating the plant under an option, since April 29 and will continue to manage the business. He has been associated with the Hockers Brick and Tile company which was founded at De Pere 70 years ago by his grandfather and now is operated by his father, Jacob Hockers.

Zerrenner has announced no plans for the future. After manufacturing bricks for five years in Kewanee he began operations with his brother here in 1898. He has been sole owner and operator of the brick yard since the death of his brother, Otto, seven years ago.

Operation at the plant has been continuous since its establishment, with an average production of four million bricks a year, Zerrenner said.

While no immediate plans for expansion have been announced by Mr. Hockers, it is expected about 15 men will be employed regularly within a short time. The yard produces red and buff building bricks.

25 Track and Field Stars Entered in Meet

New London — The same delegation which nearly copied first place for New London in the district track meet at Green Bay last week will represent the school again tomorrow in the conference meet at Neenah. Coach D. N. Slacy said yesterday. About 25 boys will go.

Bob Yost has been working out again the past few days and will join the squad in their efforts at Neenah. He was ill when New London lost the district to Shawano by 16 points at Green Bay last week. His specialty is the high jump in which he set a conference record last year.

The Stacy linebacks have shown a weakness in the running events and have improved on those in practice the past week.

Journalism Class Of Weyauwega High To Have Carnival

Weyauwega — The Journalism class of Weyauwega High school will sponsor a carnival Friday evening. Among the features will be side shows, motion pictures, an art exhibit, a skit by the Little Theater Guild, and a dance. Proceeds will help cover the cost of the school annual.

The first annual Weyauwega school visiting day, May 18, was attended by 139 eighth graders from the surrounding schools, who registered in the morning and visited high school in the forenoon to become acquainted with the work of the first year.

The picnic dinner, free ice cream, games and races at the fair grounds were followed by a parade led by the high school band. Several floats representing school activities even displayed. The Future Farmers cabin on wheels brought up the rear.

In the evening the pupils were entertained at Gerold's Opera House by Philip Foxwell, magician, and by several numbers by the Weyauwega school children.

Two Alarms Answered By Fire Department

New London — The fire department answered two calls yesterday. The first at 11:15 yesterday morning resulted from an overheated stove pipe at the Walter Toepeke home at 421 Wallace street and the second at 3:45 yesterday afternoon was at the Matt Clark Horseshoe repair shop on Shiocton street. A spark from red hot metal ignited a can of distillate near by but the flames were quickly extinguished.

County Agents in Conference With State Authorities

3-Day Meeting on Problems, Methods Opens in Appleton

Agricultural agents from 20 Wisconsin counties, with representatives of the state and federal departments of agriculture and the University of Wisconsin extension division opened a 3-day conference on discussion methods and similar problems at Hotel Appleton last night.

W. W. Clark, director of the agricultural extension division, called the session and those participating in the meetings, in addition to county and home demonstration agents, include A. Drummond Jones, division of public discussion and program planning, federal department of agriculture; Ben Rusy and J. F. Wojta, state county agent leaders; H. L. Eubank and M. P. Anderson, extension division discussion specialists; A. F. Wieden, extension division rural sociologist; T. L. Bewick, director of the 4-H club department; Miss Blanche Lee, director of the home economics extension, the Miss Josephine Pollock, assistant director.

Leads Discussion

Mr. Eubank was panel chairman Thursday evening in a discussion first of general issues and later of specific problems. The specific problems included the part of the extension worker should take in the development of adult education programs, 4-H and youth work, community recreation, and organization of cooperatives.

Mr. Clark was chairman of the morning session today at which the advantages and disadvantages of learning in groups, and of learning by doing were discussed. The use of lectures, demonstrations, discussions and how they may supplement each other, was considered.

The discussions will continue through today and Saturday morning.

Girl Is Arraigned in Court on Two Charges

Dolores Bantun, 20, Oshkosh, was fined $5 and costs in municipal court Thursday afternoon when she pleaded guilty of operating an automobile without a driver's license. She pleaded not guilty, however, to a charge of obtaining roads by false pretense, and re-arrest, and preliminary examination was set for the afternoon of May 28. She was returned to the county jail in default of $500 bond. The arrest was made by Appleton police.

Former Appleton Man Heads Hollywood Rotary

Earl F. Miller, secretary of Appleton Rotary club a number of years ago, now is president of the Hollywood club at Hollywood, Calif., which last month was host to the 200 clubs of the second International Rotary district at its annual convention. Mr. Miller gave the address of welcome at the convention opened.

Mr. Miller was chairman of the committee which arranged for the entertainment of women attending the conference.

Church Services to Be Held at Temple

During the remodeling of Memorial Presbyterian church, Sunday morning services will be conducted during the month of June at Masonic temple which is just across the street from the church. The Masonic lodge has granted permission for the congregation to hold services in the temple as an accommodation during this period. There will be no Sunday school, only the morning services at 11 o'clock.

Villagers Fined for Disorderly Conduct

Combined Locks—Martin Vandenberg, combined locks, and Walter Rutten, Little Chute, were fined $1 and costs of $53 for disorderly conduct by Justice Herman Jensen yesterday afternoon. The men were arrested by the village marshal in a Combined Locks tavern Wednesday evening.

Milwaukee Pension Bill Gets Senate's Approval

Madison—The senate passed today and sent to the assembly the Busby bill directing Milwaukee county to set up a pension and retirement system for all county employees except those now contributing to some pension fund. The measure was passed by a vote of 19 to 10.

Soil Program May Be Amended to Help Farmers Hit by Winter Kill of Crops

Washington—(U)—Senator F. Ryan, D-Wisconsin, Democrat, said today the agricultural adjustment administration may amend the 1937 soil conservation program to aid farmers whose benefits under the plan were endangered by late spring and winter killing of soil conserving crops.

Rock county, Wisconsin, farmers have asked that their corn limit be abolished and that crop land on which small grain was cut for hay be classified as soil conserving and thus made eligible for benefit payments.

Duffy said Claude Wickard, north central division director of the AAA, informed him "we are recommending the provisions of the 1937 program be amended to permit the planting of sown corn for this purpose. Sown corn means corn planted so thick that no grain will form in the ears."

"This modification should provide the additional flexibility in the program that farmers need in order to cope with conditions caused by the killing out of the soil conserving crops and the late spring and at the same time the program should result in a reasonable contribution to soil conservation," Wickard said.

Debenach Named New Council Head

Charles Debenach was elected chairman of the Appleton Building Trades council at a regular meeting held last night at Trades and Labor hall to succeed Louis Weber, who resigned. The resignation was tendered by Weber because of pressing activities of his other offices in connection with the unions.

Boileau Demands 3 Billion Fund For Federal Aid

Jobless Still Finding Situation Acute, Congressman Declares

Washington—(U)—Representative Gerald Boileau, Wausau, Wis., Progressive, told the house yesterday he will offer an amendment increasing the administration's $1,500,000,000 relief bill to $3,000,000,000.

"It is my belief," said Boileau, "that the welfare of this country can best be served not by reducing this appropriation but by materially increasing it."

"For the unemployed, the depression is more acute today than at any time since 1923. Many of us are sold on the idea we must balance the budget. The best interests of the country demand something more than balancing the budget if we are to preserve democracy."

Occasionally applauded by the Progressives, Farmer-Laborites, and a few Democrats, Boileau said nothing has occurred to reduce the one-third of the nation which President Roosevelt has declared was "ill-clad, ill-fed, and ill-housed."

Must Provide Aid

"Those people look to us for assistance: not because they want to but because conditions beyond their control make it impossible for them to provide for themselves," Boileau added.

"They have been unable to find employment. Everyone who needs and wants employment should get a job either in private industry or on a works program. Industry has not absorbed them and until work is available we have an obligation to see these people have a right to earn a living."

"Until we exercise our responsibility by reducing the hours of labor those older people whom employers will not now accept, will be unable to find jobs."

Boileau said between 8,000,000 and 11,000,000 persons were unemployed, adding:

"We should supply enough money to give a standard of living equal to what it was when the works progress administration was started and if we are to do that we must increase wages on WPA projects and also the number of people who should be enrolled on WPA."

WINS ART PRIZE

For his cellophane paper representation of a stained glass window in St. Peter's cathedral of Rome, Norbert Philipp, above, an eighth grade pupil at St. Joseph school, won first prize in the Helen Mears Memorial art contest conducted by the Eighth district of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's Clubs as part of a state-wide competition. mended as a flood-control starter by the budget bureau.

Taxes, the partner of cost-cutting in balancing the budget, occupied a group of congressmen following a treasury announcement that internal revenue collections for the last 10 months were $2,300,000,000 a day above collections a year ago.

The treasury added, however, that the $11,500,000 daily receipts still are $9,000,000 short of balancing the daily expenses of $20,800,000.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the house ways and means committee proposed that the "nuisance taxes" on such things as trucks, matches, electricity and chewing gum, be extended for another two years. The administration estimated they would produce $452,500,000 in the next year.

The agricultural adjustment administration said 22 persons and firms received federal payments of $10,000 or more under the 1936 soil conservation program.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a leading foe of President Roosevelt's cost proposal, urged his allies to stand firm against administration "pressure."

L. Douglas Rice, manager of an industrial detective firm, was acquired by a district court jury yesterday of charges of contempt of the senate. He had refused to appear before the civil liberties committee or produce records of his firm, but his attorney argued the refusal was not wilful.

YACHT BOMBED

Henday, France-Spanish Frontier—Insurgent Spanish broadcast today an announcement that incendiary bombs, dropped during an insurgent-Basque government air battle, had fired the Basque yacht Gizeko-Izarra, carrying refugees out of Bilbao.

An insurgent communiqué said the yacht was blazing "somewhere in the bay of Biscay."

Although the communiqué said the Gizeko-Izarra was carrying an undisclosed number of refugees "to England," it was believed she was bound, instead, for Bordeaux, where she landed 500 Bilbao children on a previous trip. It was not known whether any children were aboard at present.

said the church had been given a long period of grace to "cleanse" religious orders but had done nothing.

Hence, the paper declared, the state was obliged to intervene "not for the satisfaction of sending priests to jail but because the state alone is able to eradicate the evils."

The Catholic church was described as defending the condition it was powerless to end because of "the question of prestige."

Chicago—(U)—Catholic bishops of Minnesota and North Dakota joined Chicago Protestant and Jewish churchmen today in supporting Cardinal Mundelein's denunciation of the German government's attitude toward the Catholic church.

Archbishop John Gregory Murray of St. Paul, Minn., said the "present critical situation in Germany" demanded that "all Christians unite in solemn protest against the diabolical methods being pursued to eliminate every vestige of Christianity" from the German people.

"No circumstance of physical separation," he said, "can justify an attitude of indifference by the part of any Christian to the satanic measures presently in effect in that hapless nation to separate millions of good men, women and children from their church and God."

Bishop Aloysius J. Muench of Fargo, N. D., asserted Nazi officials were "making a laughing stock of themselves" in their protests against Cardinal Mundelein.

Bishops Francis M. Kelly of Winona, Minn., Joseph F. Busch, of St. Cloud, Minn., and Vincent Wehrle, of Bismarck, N. D., joined Archbishop Murray in condemning Nazi officials. Their statements appeared in a German Catholic newspaper published in St. Paul.

POPE PREPARES PAPER

Vatican City—(U)—Pope Pius XI has completed and may publish at any moment a White Book against the German government, prelates said today.

The diplomatic paper has been in preparation for several months, they asserted, and is designed to give documentary evidence that any violation of the Vatican-German concordat was the part of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's regime and not of the holy see.

The concordat, signed July 8, 1933, by representatives of the Vatican and Germany, was designed to outline the sphere of the church's activity in Germany, especially with regard to training of youth.

(Church spokesmen since have charged that the Nazi government abridged the concordat by attempting to deny the church privilege of religious training for Catholic youth.)

Vatican sources said that regardless of what press attacks might be made in Germany on George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago for his criticism of the Hitler government, the Vatican would not take action.

The prelates reiterated that the cardinal, being head of a diocese, was free to speak to his people as he thought best. There was no thought in the Vatican of repudiating him, they said.

Brilliant Man Re-elected By Publicity Association

Beaver Dam, Wis.—(U)—Delegates to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Cheese Publicity association yesterday adopted a resolution opposing legislative bill 527-A for the licensing of cheese dealers because they believed it would discourage cheese consumption in the state.

Also opposed in resolution by the delegates were bills for the grading of cheese and the licensing of dairy farmers.

Three new directors elected to the association are Guy G. Friday, Richland county, three years; Ed Lamont, Taylor county, one year, and Theodore Lehman, Dodge city, one year. Directors re-elected for three years are H. P. Mulloy, Kiel; C. C. Brick, Brillion; F. D. Turner, Columbia county; C. J. Ebert, Shawano county.

Asserts 'Good Looks' Essential to Success

Lake Delton, Wis.—(U)—Dr. Helen Binnie, Kenosha, told delegates to the convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs today "good looks" are essential to success.

Dr. Binnie is health chairman of the organization which opened its annual three-day convention today.

Delegates were warned the "good looks" she had reference too did not come from the drug store or the beauty parlor.

"I mean the kind of good looks that are attained by regularity in living which gives one an animated, alert appearance, an eagerness in everything of interest," she explained.

E. A. Clemens, Oshkosh state teacher's college, delivered an address entitled, "Know Wisconsin—Your State." Vera M. Prynn, Appleton, conducted a round table discussion on international relations, emphasizing the need of goodwill and a spirit of co-operation among individuals as a stepping stone to the same spirit, among nations.

Compensation Is Asked for Death Of County Worker

Claim Injury in Tire Fixing Accident Proved Fatal

Hearing of the case of William Vandenberg, deceased, 1015 W. Fourth street, against Outagamie county took place before an examiner of the Wisconsin Industrial commission this afternoon at the city hall.

Mrs. Vandenberg is seeking compensation for the death of her husband, who, she claims, died as a result of an accident while in the employ of the county. She claims he strained himself on June 1, 1936 in the town of Seymour when he attempted to hold up a car after a jack slipped while a tire was being changed. He died June 22, 1936.

The case of Leroy Gerhartz, 222 Tenth street, Kaukauna, against the Combined Locks Paper company was heard. Gerhartz seeks compensation for an injury which resulted in the loss of his right hand. He was injured when his hand caught between two rolls of a calendar stack at the mill on May 3, 1936.

General Weather

A low pressure area which is now central over eastern Minnesota has caused general showers and scattered thunderstorms over the Lake region and upper Mississippi valley. Showers also occurred over the northern Rocky mountains and sections of the Canadian Northwest. However, fair weather is general this morning over all the eastern and southern states, southern plains states and from the Rocky mountains to the Pacific coast.

It is now warmer over all the north central states and northeastern states, but temperatures are falling over the plains states.

Thunder showers are expected in this section this afternoon or early tonight, followed by fair and cooler Saturday.

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

To a Show-Down

If the President still holds the views which he expressed in his first message to Congress last January, the resignation of Mr. Justice Van Devanter, following upon the ascendency of a liberal majority within the Supreme Court, ought to give him great pleasure. But, as a matter of fact, there are many signs that the faction with which he is now associated is greatly embarrassed by the achievement of his avowed objects. They are not in the least elated at having won what they said they were fighting for.

Most of the Democratic leaders in Congress must be wondering about this. They must have asked themselves again and again why with the judiciary bill which its supposed purpose has either been accomplished already or is certain to be accomplished within the next twelve months. This is a puzzling question. But we shall soon learn the answer. Now that a liberal court is certain we shall learn whether the avowed object of the bill is its real object, whether its object is to insure liberal control of the court or whether the object is something more far-reaching than the liberalization of the court.

What They Mean When They Talk of Liberalizing Court

When men speak of liberalizing the court they mean that the constitution shall be construed by judges who have the legal philosophy developed by the dissenting opinions of Holmes and Brandeis since his retirement by Brandeis. Stone and Cardozo in their dissenting opinions. The sponsors of the president's bill have given out the impression that what they seek to do is to make a court in which a firm majority will hold the philosophy of these dissenting judges. With that purpose the leaders of the opposition have been in sympathy, however much they may have rebelled against the decision and the brutality of the judiciary bill itself. Such disinterested support as the bill has had among thoughtful people has been due to a conviction that the court needed badly to lay aside the legal philosophy of Mr. Justice McReynolds and to adopt the legal philosophy of Mr. Justice Holmes.

What Position He Insists on Enactment

But what is the position of these supporters if now the president insists upon the enactment of his bill? Is it not evident that if he does insist, he is confessing that he wants more power than even a liberal court would find in the Constitution? Is that not the reason why the liberal decisions of the past two months and the resignation of Mr.

Justice Van Devanter are so embarrassing to the promoters of the president's plan? Is it not that they really want a great deal more power than any liberal court can conscientiously give them, and that they find themselves today in a quandary where it is no longer possible for them to conceal their real purpose? For they can no longer pretend that they are disciples of Holmes and Brandeis if now they try to force through this bill.

No Such Authority From A Merely Liberal Court

Such authority they will never obtain from a merely liberal court. That was demonstrated, first, in the NRA case, where the liberal justices were, if anything, more vehement than the others against the blanket delegation of power to the president. It was demonstrated again in the Humphrey case, where, by a vote of eight to one, the court set itself against the president's attempt to bring the independent commissions under his personal control.

From a liberal court the New Dealers could get the power to achieve most of the reforms which they have talked about. But what they cannot get from a liberal court is the blanket authority that they now desire. For the liberal justices are constitutionalists. The dominant New Dealers today are not. The dominant New Dealers today are men who believe that there must be no limits upon the power of the New Deal majority.

Thus, though it was indiscreet on his part, it was immensely revealing when Representative Maverick yesterday demanded the retirement not only of all the conservative judges, but of Mr. Justice Brandeis as well. Mr. Maverick is not to be taken too seriously as an Administration spokesman even though he is the nominal sponsor of the judiciary bill. But Mr. Maverick is very representative indeed of the little group of bold and reckless men who have been setting the pace for the president in the past few months.

Brandeis Is Not in Accord With New Deal

It is significant that Mr. Maverick wants to get rid of Mr. Justice Brandeis. From his point of view he is quite right. The liberalism of Mr. Justice Brandeis is deeply inconsistent with the personally conducted collectivism which the present New Dealers want.

Because this is their real purpose, the inner circle who are now in control of the New Deal are not pleased when the court liberalizes its views. They would find it easier to overwhelm the court if it stood rigid. That is why they are not satisfied with a "compromise" that would give them the appointment of two justices. To establish the kind of sovereign power they desire, they need the six appointments in the supreme court and the forty-four other appointments in the lower federal courts.

For their purpose is not to liberalize the courts. Their purpose is to become the masters of the courts in order that constitutional limitations and judicial restraint may no longer check their own authority. Copyright, 1937, New York Tribune, Inc.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

BY HOWARD BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Editor
Present-day Americans "ain't seen nothing" yet of the dust storms of which the southwest was once capable. Around 20,000 years ago they even chased the animals out of western Nebraska.

The evidence is reported by Dr. A. L. Lugin of the University of Nebraska department of geology. Because of what the dust storms buried, and the peculiar conditions of the dust formations of long ago in that area, Dr. Lugin finds that western Nebraska probably will be the richest spot in the United States for revealing convincing evidence of the antiquity of man in North America.

The Nebraska geologists have found three layers or "horizons" in the western Nebraska dust-made lands. The top is the soil known to present-day man. Below is a great depth showing no buried evidences of human habitation. Below that is a third layer containing man's stone tools. Still lower, it is predicted, one or two further "horizons" may be found.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood—At the zero hour, when the director says "Roll 'em!" and a movie scene gets under way, actors react in different ways.

Most of them appear calm, poised and completely at ease. But inside, what goes on! They are standing before the camera, the clapper has held that black and white board with the mystic symbols of scene identification before their faces, and popped it shut—clack!—and they're on their own.

"It's like jumping into a pool of ice-cold water," says Clark Gable. Watch Gable in the just-before-the-battle stage, and you'll see him grab the lapel of his coat, then suddenly relax. That's a poise-retainer for him.

Myrna Loy gets the same psychological effect by adjusting her hair.

ever so slightly, even though it's all been done before by the expert on the set.

Shirley Temple, youngest of the trouper, shows least concern of any. She'll stand there grinning confidently, through take after take, while a veteran like C. Aubrey Smith, twice floored by "blow" lines, braces himself for a third attempt.

Marlene Dietrich usually touches her make-up, steps on to the scene of action, and waits for the clapper to sound, all very coolly. Joan Crawford looks tense, and is tense. Usually she has had phonograph music to key her emotionally just before the scene. Then she steps forth to battle, clears her throat and is ready.

Bette Davis is intent, but not tense. Robert Taylor has a habit of straightening his tie, screwing up his face, but Robert Montgomery merely keeps up his usual stream of lively chatter. Dick Powell, used to his part too, shows no nervousness. At the signal he can turn on his grin or make a face.

Warner Baxter, seasoned veteran of many "Roll 'em!" calls, still unconsciously pulls at his ears and nose. Frank Morgan twirls the ends of his mustache, and Lionel Barrymore walks away from the camera, then back again.

Joan Bennett becomes, for the moment, a frantic gum-chewer. But she disposes of it, in case this bothers you, before going in front of the camera.

The sea wheel has a rasp-like organ with which it can bore through the shells of oysters to devour them.

255 Valley Council Scouts Register for Camp at Gardner Dam

Two hundred and fifty-five Boys Scouts from 18 Valley Council troops have registered for summer camp at Gardner dam. No reports have been received from the other 24 troops in the council.

Reservations for camp during Paul Bunyon week, July 18-25, and rodeo week, July 25-Aug. 1, have been filled. The camp will open July 11 and continue for seven weeks until Aug. 29.

About 50 scouts from troop 3, St. Thomas church, Menasha, troop 3, Menasha Wooden Ware, and troop

11, McKinley Junior High school, were at Gardner dam last weekend. Several boys captured two live porcupines and brought them home for display this week. The animals will be returned to Gardner dam woods this weekend by national jamboree scouts who will camp there Saturday and Sunday.

Tells Value Of Education For Youth

THE training that young people are given in high school makes them better able to understand the political, social, and economic structure of our country, Miss Margaret McMahon, Green Bay school teacher, said in her talk before 150 women at the noon luncheon of the eight district women's club convention held yesterday in the high school gymnasium.

"Youth should be prepared to see that the relation between the individual and the community is an unswerving principle," Miss McMahon stated. "High school makes it easier to understand this."

Speaking on "Preparing Youth for Social Change," she described the six "areas" in which high schools give students a clearer understanding of the practical sides to living, the sides with which they will be most concerned after their schooling is finished.

She listed the six areas as civic-mindedness, economic life, taxation, political service, appreciation of the esthetic, and appreciation of the scientific method.

"High schools should and are teaching their students an awareness of the things they must face when they get out into life. For example, they are being brought to appreciate the simple fact that no activity is possible unless there is a tax levy to support it."

Whether the student enters political service later as an office holder or voter makes no difference, Miss McMahon declared. "He is better prepared because of his high school training to do either."

A great respect for the truth is one of the most vital teachings that youth is learning today, an ability to look for facts and recognize them and an interest in causes and effects. "High school students are less glib and more resisting to propaganda," the speaker said.

Need Leadership
Asserting that "no institution has won its way with the people of the country like the high school," she stressed the importance of the kind of leadership that youth has and said that "if we as women could improve the program to make our young people better citizens, we have certainly made a great contribution. It is not so important to say, 'Look at youth today' as it is to say, 'Look at who is leading youth today.'"

Mrs. Adam Steel of Manitowish, district treasurer, presided at the luncheon at which Mrs. A. L. Blackstone of Waukesha, state president, spoke briefly.

A group of Kaukauna High school students presented a play, "The Florist Shop," and Katherine Ann Driessen a tap dance number.

Plan Spring Formal, Picnic and Dinner For College Group

Saturday will be a big day, socially, for the Lawrence college, Wisconsin Alpha, chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. Planned for the day are a picnic at High Cliff in the afternoon, a dinner in the evening at the Hearstone Tea room and the annual spring formal later in the evening at North Shore Golf club. An Appleton orchestra will play for the dance.

Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Towle and Mr. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Treise have been asked to chaperone the affair, and among the faculty men and wives who have been asked to come as guests are Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Millis, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beck and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Mitchell. Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Buchanan, patrons of the fraternity, will also be there, as will a large number of alumni.

The fraternity's social committee, which has the arrangements for the day, consists of William Guyer, Ironwood, Mich.; Robert Isely, Wauwatosa; Clarence Sheldon, Milwaukee; Karl Cast, Appleton; and Perry Peterson, Rapid River, Mich.

Fraternity Will Hold Spring Formal At Riverview Club

Phi Delta Theta fraternity will have its spring formal dance Saturday night at Riverview Country club. In addition to the members of the active chapter and their guests, between 30 and 50 alumni are expected to attend the party. John Schmeider of Neenah is chairman of the affair, and he has announced that a 16-piece Chicago orchestra has been engaged to play.

Among the guests and chaperones invited to the party are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, Dr. and Mrs. David DeLo, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Pusey, Mr. and Mrs. Donald DuShane, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Treu, Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Townner, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Troyer, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beck and Dr. and Mrs. J. B. MacHarg.

A group of about 30 alumni of the fraternity will have a dinner at the country club preceding the dance. Mrs. R. K. Wolter has made the arrangements.

FORMER APPLETON GIRL WEDS IN OHIO

Mrs. James Delaney Platt, Jr., above, whose wedding was solemnized at 8:30 last Saturday night at St. Paul Episcopal church, Dayton, Ohio, is the former Miss Martha Van Nortwick Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Holbrook, Dayton, formerly of Appleton, and niece of Mrs. L. L. Alsted and William Van Nortwick of Appleton. She is wearing the gown of duchess lace which her mother wore when she was married in All Saints Episcopal church of Appleton. When Mr. and Mrs. Platt return from their wedding trip to the Adirondack mountains, where they are spending several weeks at the Platt summer home, they will live at 2309 Far Hills avenue, Dayton. ## Neenah Girl Marries Fond du Lac Resident

MISS CLARA C. ROMER, daughter of James Romer, 118 Tyler street, Neenah, and Norman L. Adams, Fond du Lac, were married at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the parlor of the First Presbyterian church of Neenah, the Rev. W. R. Courtney reading the service. Walter Romer and Miss Mary Romer, brother and sister to the bride, were attendants. The young couple left immediately following the ceremony on a wedding trip. Upon their return they will make their home in Fond du Lac where Mr. Adams is employed as sales manager for the Fred Reuping Leather company. For a number of years, the bride was secretary to John S. Sennsenn, Neenah, a Clark corporation.

Pupils Present Radio Broadcast at School

A "Man on the Street" broadcast was held by seventh grade pupils of Roosevelt Junior High school during the school assembly program this afternoon. Mrs. Emaline Lang and Miss Margaret Rome, faculty members, were in charge. Charles Hervey served as announcer for the program with Paul Radtke asking the questions. Students answering questions were Betty Lou Greb, Keith Hardacker, Virginia Traas, Stanley Williams, William Cherkasky, Ralph Buesing, Dan Moser and Betty Meyer. During the program Clarence Manser played a piano solo, Joyce Kezler and Shirley Forsman played a violin duet, and were accompanied by Betty Lou Greb.

Initiate 13 Students Into National Players

Thirteen Lawrence college students, two from Appleton, were initiated into the local chapter of the National Collegiate Players at a meeting last night in the Little Theater of Memorial chapel. Appleton students elected are Wilmer Witt, 219 S. Spruce street, and James Morrow, 615 S. Memorial drive. Others initiated were Erving Sloan, Chicago; Miss Sylvia Dubek, Oak Park, Ill.; Miss Margaret Mercer, Evanston, Ill.; Miss Phyllis Van Bulten, Chicago; Miss Rosemary Dupont, Cicolet, Minn.; Albert Haack, Wauwatosa; Roger Fischer and Miss Dorothy Below, Elmhurst, Ill.; Everett Bauman, Woodstock, Ill.; Miss Evelyn Mertine, Iron River, Mich.; and Walker Coffee, assistant to the dean, who was given an honorary membership.

Jury for Little Theater Play to Come From Audience

ALTHOUGH rehearsals for "Night of January 16," forthcoming production of the Little Theater of the Fox River Valley to be given next Thursday and Friday nights, May 27 and 28, at Outagamie court house, have been under way for some time, 12 important members of the cast still remain to be chosen. Fortunately, they need no rehearsal, and will not be chosen until the nights of the performances, for they are the jurors who will listen to the evidence

Local Women At Meet of Club Group

A LARGE group of Appleton Business and Professional Women's club members are attending the state convention of Wisconsin Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs today and Saturday at Dell View hotel, Lake Delton. Among those in attendance from Appleton are the Misses Lynda Hollenbeck, Laura Fischer, Helen Proctor, Catherine Nooyen, Irene Reinke, Agnes and Myrtle Van Ryin, Josephine Patton, Lucille Lillie, Isla Thompson, Ruth Dawes, Mabel Sibley, Vera Pynn and Margaret Laird.

Miss Sibley will lead one of the round table discussions Saturday morning. Miss Fischer's name appears on the ballot as a candidate for state president, along with Miss Marie Franzen of Milwaukee, and Miss Dorothy Stern of New London is a candidate for director. Candidates for first vice president are Miss Norma Howarth, Madison, and Dr. Helen Binnie of Kenosha; for second vice president, Miss Rose Havelock of Marinette and Miss Florence Wiltout of Chippewa Falls; for recording secretary, Miss Tess Eronne of Sheboygan and for treasurer, Miss Mabel Finkels of Manitowish and Miss Vina Mills of Racine. Other candidates for directors are Dr. Martha Kohl of Eau Claire and Mrs. Mabel J. Ramm of Antigo.

Prominent Wisconsin speakers are appearing at the luncheon and dinner meetings, and Mrs. Geline MacDonald Bowman of Richmond, past president of the national federation, will speak at the banquet Saturday evening. Round table discussions for club officers and committee chairmen will be held this afternoon.

Student Organist To Present Senior Recital at Chapel

Miss Hazel Dunne, Oconomowoc, will present her senior organ recital at Lawrence chapel at 4:30 Sunday afternoon.

Miss Dunne, who is a student of LaVahn Maesch, presented her junior recital last year and has appeared at frequent organ programs throughout the past four years. She will repeat this program at Oconomowoc on Friday, June 4, assisted by Marshall Hulbert, baritone. A candidate for the bachelor of music degree, which she will receive in June, Miss Dunne has accepted a position at Kemper Hall, Kenosha for next fall. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, national musical sorority.

Appleton Girl Wins Scholarship Award

Miss Marie Ritter, Appleton, and Miss Beth Petters, formerly of Appleton, were among the students at the Oshkosh State Teachers college who received recognition for outstanding scholarship at the annual scholarship assembly held at the college Tuesday. The program was in charge of Phi Beta Sigma, national honorary scholarship fraternity. It was dedicated to the first semester honor roll students, all those who had a grade point average of 2.3 or above and no grade lower than B.

and render the verdict on which will depend which of the two endings for the play will be used. A different jury will be chosen each night of the play, the names to be drawn as for any trial from the jury will, after all of the evidence has been given, retire to the jury room and deliberate on a verdict, but because of the problem of time involved, the verdict will be reached by a majority vote rather than unanimous decision.

Served On Jury
When "Night of January 16" was playing in New York two seasons ago, among the well known people who served on the jury during professional performances were Jack Dempsey, James Roosevelt, Richard Cortez, Babe Ruth and Helen Keller. On one occasion four United States congressmen were among the jurors. Buckner of Pennsylvania, Dunn of Minnesota, McFarlane of Texas and Charles Kramer of California. At the performance for the stage relief fund in New York, Roland Young, Margaret Perry, Ernest Lawford, Muriel Kirkland, Robert Garland, Margaret Wyckherly and Fania McInoff served.

Audiences generally left the theater after performances of "Night of January 16" debating the correctness of the verdict. The play is built in such a way that the evidence of the defendant's guilt or innocence is evenly balanced and the decision will have to be based on the juror's feelings toward the case, upon the jurors' own characteristics. The two parties opposed in the trial are as radically antagonistic as will be members of the audience and the men and women who will serve on the jury.

When the play opened in New York it was feared that this innovation of selecting a jury from the audience might not prove popular, but such fears proved groundless for soon the public was pulling wires to get the chance to serve on the jury.

Women Plan Their Part In Program

PLANS for their observance of Memorial day, which includes attendance in a body at the service at the First English Lutheran church Sunday morning, May 30, when the Rev. F. C. Reuter will preach a special Memorial day sermon, and the annual Memorial day dinner which they will sponsor Monday noon, May 31, at Elks hall, were discussed at the regular meeting of the Women's Relief corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic, Thursday afternoon in Elks hall.

Mrs. Bertha Reetz is chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner, at which Appleton's Civil war veterans, Comrades Charles Gosha, Charles Brown and Steve Meidam, as well as Brigadier-General Ralph Immell, adjutant general of the state of Wisconsin, Mayor and Mrs. John Goodland, the Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Reuter, the Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Spangler and speakers and officers of the day will be guests of honor. Thad Sheerin, Neenah Civil war veteran, will also be invited to the dinner.

The corps recently purchased a marching flag that will see its first service on Memorial day.

Observe Day
Peace and arbitration day was observed in the program presented under the direction of Mrs. Orah Peotter, patriotic instructor, after the corps business session yesterday. Mrs. Gladys Phillips read "Peace by Amendment," by Congressman Ludlow; Mrs. Dora Fraser read "The Land of Lost Delight," written by Libbie C. Baer, first president of the local corps; Mrs. Theresa Lettwich read "Memorial Day," by Mrs. Emma A. Lent; Mrs. Clara Miller read "The New Memorial Day," by Albert Bigelow; and Mrs. Phillips read the poem "A Mother Speaks" by Grace Noll Crowell.

On June 3 the Women's Relief corps will have one of its regular luncheon meetings at Elks hall, with Mrs. Augusta Sanders as chairman, and on June 5 it will take part in the naturalization day program at

Piano Students Will Appear in Recital Tonight

Pupils of Barbara Webster and Francis Proctor, instructors in piano at Lawrence conservatory, will be presented in recital at Peabody hall at 7:30 this evening. The children, with one exception, are from the Neenah studios of the conservatory.

They will play the following program:

the court house. Mrs. Orah Peotter, patriotic instructor, and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Dora Fraser, Mrs. Jessie Peterman, Mrs. Mary Walker, Mrs. Katherine Schulze and Mrs. Lillian Trentlage will present an Americanization program and give the new citizens literature and little lapel flags.

Mrs. C. N. Hansen and Mrs. Joseph Pecard, Bessemer, Mich., arrived this afternoon to be guests over the weekend at the home of Mrs. Mae M. Frick, 502 N. Durkee street.

Nation Which Fails to Give Motherhood Due Will Fail, Sodality Is Told

If any nation or state should fail to appreciate or give the credit due to motherhood, that nation would go to a ruin dismal and complete, the Rev. Michael Jacowski of St. Boniface church, West De Pere, told members of the Young Ladies sodality of St. Therese Catholic church and their mothers Thursday night at their annual mother and daughter banquet in the parish hall.

Father Jacowski told of the statue of the pioneer mother erected in Kansas and said that her conquest was great, but the conquest of Christian mothers even greater, for the work they do is enduring and everlasting.

Referring to a statement made at one time by a writer in the Yale Review to the effect that if a survey were made of the fine arts and their catalogs one would find there the name of no woman, Father Jacowski said it would have been enlightening to ask some of the men geniuses in music, painting and literature what they thought of the achievements of women. He was sure that they would answer that no one in the world had created such beauty as a mother did.

Mothers Must Fight
Appalling evils are attacking Christian civilization today, and it is the Christian mother who must fight against them in the home, he declared. Among the evils he named were show houses and movies, which are instilling loss of respect in the minds of the younger generation, he charged; tons of literature which is befouling many minds; the breaking up of homes, divorce and birth control automobiles, in themselves good, but easily abused.

"It is against these iniquities that you must fight," Father Jacowski told the mothers. "You must be not only an edifying example but also a guardian and protector. Too many mothers let their daughters go where they please, come in when they please and associate with whom they will."

Exalted Position
To the daughters he said, "Preparation for marriage and motherhood does not consist in wild night revelleries, in drinking and in smoking. Motherhood is too high and exalted a position for anything like that. Since the beginning of time the word motherhood has stood for courage, noble affection and great achievement."

Miss Cecile Blick, who served as toastmistress at the banquet, was introduced by Miss Eldine Wiegand. The toast to the mothers was given by Miss Dorothy Hodge, and the toast to the daughters by Mrs. H. M. Hodge.

On the program, in addition to Father Jacowski's address, were a tap dance number by Reno Utchig and Donald Courchane; vocal solos by Mrs. Guy Warner, accompanied at the piano by Miss Myrtle Rogers; guitar duets by the Milneisers; a few remarks by the Rev. E. Bujarski of St. Therese church; and assembly singing of "America," "Mother March" and "Auld Lang Syne."

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Applications for marriage licenses have been made at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, by Willard M. Carney, route 4, Appleton, and Lorane Weyenberg, route 2, W. DePere; Fredric C. Gebhart, Fond du Lac, and Emelda E. Lemke, Appleton; Donald F. Rusch, Neenah, and Margot Twarz, Appleton.

Sister M. Morita, daughter of Morita Heinemann, 403 N. Bennett street, arrived in Appleton last night from Pueblo, Colo. She will spend a few days here visiting relatives and friends before she returns to Pueblo.

Badger Harbor, River Projects Included in Bill

Measure Must Now Receive Approval of Congress And President

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—Seven projects calling for improvements to Wisconsin rivers and harbors and two authorizing preliminary examinations and surveys with a view to improvements are included in an omnibus rivers and harbors bill just presented to congress.

If the projects are given favorable consideration by congress and the president, funds for them may be authorized in an appropriations bill this session.

The improvements projects include the following:

Green Bay Harbor—modification of the existing project to provide a turning point 2 feet deep above the Chicago and Northwestern Railway bridge; estimated cost, $27,000, with no increase in the present approved estimate for annual maintenance.

Big Sausage River—improvements providing a channel eight feet deep from that depth in Green Bay to a point 1,800 feet above the river mouth, with widths of 100 feet in the bay and 60 feet in the river; estimated cost, $20,000 for new work, with annual maintenance estimated at $1,500.

Manitowish Harbor—modification of existing project to provide for a channel 21 feet deep in Manitowish River, from the river mouth to the second railway bridge, approximately 1.7 miles, with widths of 180 feet at the mouth reducing to 150 feet in the upper end; estimated cost, $15,000 for new work and $8,000 annual maintenance in addition to that now required.

The two Wisconsin projects for which congress is asked to authorize preliminary examinations and surveys are at Miller Bay on Lake Winnebago and at Kenosha Harbor.

Committee Will Plan Office Improvement

Plans for changes in the office of the register of deeds to provide storage space for records will be outlined at a meeting of the buildings and grounds committee at the courthouse at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. The county board, at its May session appropriated $1,000 for the improvements and bids will be sought soon by the committee.

3rd Grade Pupils Build Model Home At Columbus School

After completing a study of Holland, third grade pupils under Miss Mathilda Karrow at Columbus Grade school built a miniature Dutch village in their sand box. Several small dykes and ponds have been constructed and near the village are doll figures of Dutch home owners.

Trees made of small sticks and small pieces of green painted sponge lend beauty to the scene. The picturesque Dutch flower girl with her oxen and cart was not forgotten although she only is one of the five figures in the scene. A large painted frieze has been completed and hangs back of the sand box thus making the scene look larger. Real grass was planted in the box but the display will be taken down before any mowing is necessary.

Pupils learned songs about Holland and later wrote original stories and poems in their illustrated booklets. Several boys brought wooden shoes to the school and these also were placed on exhibit.

State to Install New Safety Signs

24-Inch Reflectorized Equipment to be Placed At Main Intersections

Large 24-inch reflector stop signs, replacing the smaller, plain stop signs now in use, will be placed at major intersections of state and federal highways in Wisconsin this summer. E. J. O'Meara, state traffic engineer for the state highway commission, announced today. As a safety measure, almost every intersection where a state route crosses another state or federal highway will be safeguarded by the installation of the new type of equipment.

Effectiveness of this type of sign already has been demonstrated on Highway 12, where stop signs on every public road leading onto the route were replaced recently with the larger reflectorized equipment.

APPLETON, WISCONSIN, FRIDAY, MAY 21, 1937

Viking and H. S. Tracksters Point for Titles

Lawrence Squad
Favored to Win
College HonorsCarroll Beloit Will Furnish Most Opposition at State Meet

LAWRENCE college track and field squad will go after its second consecutive state championship crown of the present Viking regime in track, when it invades Beloit college campus Saturday. The meet is scheduled to start at 1:30.

Winner in dual meets with Carroll, Ripon and Beloit by overwhelming scores, and third place winner in the Midwest conference meet, the Vikes are heavy favorites to repeat. However, Coach Arthur C. Denney is slightly worried about a couple angles of the afternoon's program and he'll be glad until he sees certain of his charges produce a few points.

Carroll is picked to give Lawrence the most opposition. The fact the Pioneers haven't worked for two weeks may mean their interest has been dulled or sharpened—and that's Denney's biggest problem. Beloit will be tough, too, he feels because it is performing at home. Ripon appears to be the only outsider although, if John Pray happened to be in trim, he'll give Lawrence a battle in the high jump and maybe cut in on the hurdles.

Guessing the Points
Looking over the various events, things may shape up in the following manner:—Joe Graf should give Lawrence a first with Sauer. Beloit, right behind him followed by Gates, Beloit, Wolf, Carroll, may garner third but more likely fourth.

220-yard dash—Sauer has beaten Graf in this event twice this year and is given the edge. Joe's friends feel that all things even, and if Joe runs, he'll do better than second. Vande Walle, Lawrence, ought to crash through with a third while Gates, Beloit, is slated for fourth.

440-yard run—Gimla, Carroll, and Phillips, Beloit, are being picked to battle it out in the quarter mile. Lawrence's entries will be Gerlach and Vande Walle. Gerlach ran a great race at the Midwest meet but he's still trying to think his mind and find the right test.

Vande Walle hasn't been doing so well where there's a lot of competition and isn't rated better than fourth.

Half mile—Klock, Beloit, and Buck, Carroll, have turned in some pretty fair times and are being picked for 1 and 2 but they'll have to contend with Grode, Lawrence, Goebel, Carroll, and Schuberth in mile.

Mile—Denney is running Schuberth in the mile and if he gallops like he did at the Midwest meet it will be another first. Goebel, Carroll, is expected to be in shape and may push Schuberth. Grode should take third and Crow, Beloit, fourth.

Two mile—Ross, Beloit, is favored with Ripon's Zaring and Seale second and third. Schuberth may be entered to pick up a point or two just to be on the safe side of things.

High hurdles—Sam Lee, should cop the highs for Lawrence, easily. Buck, Carroll, looks like a second with Volger, Beloit, offering opposition. Gordon Walker, Lawrence, should garner a fourth or better.

Low hurdles—Gimla, Carroll, nosed out Lee at Waushara and may give him another battle. Volger, Beloit, and Pray, Ripon, will follow in the order named.

Shot—Lawrence should win first with Kapp doing the pushing although Maertzwiler will be up there if he has a good day. Knutson, Carroll, and Wells, Beloit, will battle for the other two places.

Javelin—Ed Fritz has outclassed the other tossers in the javelin but Ripon may gang up for a second with Evans and a third with Horke. Gold, Burton and Osborn, Lawrence, should make in there somewhere, however, if they get off a good toss.

Discus—Kapp, Lawrence, and Lohmiller, Carroll, will battle for honors in the discus. Evans, Ripon, and Meyer, Carroll, are the next best tossers.

Relay—Because Beloit has two good sprinters in Sauer and Gates, it will press Lawrence in the relay. Carroll will probably be third and Ripon trail.

TWO "JOHN L'S"
Milwaukee, Wis.—Old John L. Sullivan probably never dreamed that he would in any way ever affect the football coaching staff at Marquette university. But now the Golden Avalanche staff comes to the front with John L. on its roster—Paddy Driscoll, head coach, and Tarzan Taylor, line coach. Incidentally, Driscoll and Taylor were born just a year apart on Jan. 10.

WILL SEEK COLLEGE HIGH JUMP RECORD

Sam Lee, above, Lawrence college's star high jumper, will go after a new record in his pet event Saturday when he competes in the state college track and field meet at Beloit. The present mark is 6 feet, 10 1/2 inches and is held jointly by Orlebeke of Carroll and Lee. The Viking jumper has bettered the mark several times in the last two years but it eluded him at the state meet last spring. Last Saturday he jumped better than 6 feet at the Midwest meet. Lee also stars in the hurdles and broad jump.

Chaff 'n Chatter

By Gordon R. McIntyre

FOLLOWERS of Lawrence college and Appleton High school track and field teams will be watching for reports from Beloit and Manitowoc tomorrow when the Vikes compete in the state college meet at Beloit and the highs in the conference relays at Manitowoc. The college meet is the most important one of the season to Lawrence which will be defending the title won last year. The relays are the second most important meet for the high school. They also will give some indication of how the schools will show in the conference track and field meet at Green Bay East in June.

I'd like to see the state college meet for I believe that Lawrence will win. The Vikes have many good first place winners but the boys who "also ran" will count a lot and their efforts may mean more than a first place.

I'm going to the relays, however, and I won't be disappointed. Coach Joseph Shields has some likely looking combinations and the boys are so ambitious they are pointing for three relays—which is a lot of points. In the special events Jones should count ten points and the other boys do mighty well.

One of the Terror athletes will be competing the first time this season but we won't say anything about that until we see what he does. He has worked only a day or two so far. But if he comes through in his two favorite events we'll vouch that John Walters of ye Press-Gazette will have some weeping to do.

Lawrence holds nine of the state college track marks and three men hold two each. Doug Hyde's dash times have stood for eight or nine years. Jerry Hecker set the two middle distance records last year and John Vogel the shot and discus records. Sam Lee led for the high jump last year. Howie Pope still holds the broad jump and the relay team of Don and Doug Hyde, Brunsat and Ellis still holds that record.

Principal L. K. Forrest of Marion has come to the front with an excellent idea. He suggests that the Little Nine conference's three best men in each track event compete against the three best men from the Central Wisconsin conference in a meet at Whiting field, Lawrence college.

The coaches at Lawrence think it's a good idea, too, but whether it can be done any more this season is a question. However, just to start the argument I'll bet on the boys from the Little Nine conference—at least this year.

A year ago, if you followed softball, you saw the name of Gene Kloe as pitcher for one or two teams. And he turned in some pretty fair battles, too, occasionally getting a no-hitter with the Beloit Beers. This year you haven't seen his name mentioned because he's home permitting a badly shattered leg and a cracked ankle to heal.

About six months ago a truck pinned him against a wall shattering the lower bone in the left leg. He went to the hospital for weeks while the doc gathered the pieces together and started them growing again. A couple weeks ago he attended a softball meeting, nobbling around on crutches. While leaving the meeting he tumbled down some steps and cracked the bone in the right ankle. And now he isn't getting around at all.

Talk about hard luck—
The American Softball league is planning a benefit movie for Eddie Helms, Woolens infielder, who suffered a broken leg sliding the first week of the season. They've arranged with a talkie house and will show a picture featuring Robert Taylor, which ought to interest the gals, and Barbara Stanwyck, which ought to interest the boys. The softballers will be out selling tickets any day now and they deserve your support.

Feller Through Until After Eastern Trip
Washington—Manager Steve O'Neill announced today that Feller, the Cleveland Indians' youthful strikeout king, would do no further pitching on the club's current eastern trip which ends May 27.

O'Neill's announcement came after Feller reported his "million dollar" right arm felt weak and that some trace of soreness remained. The Iowa youth has made only one appearance since he suffered the injury in his first American league start of the season at Cleveland April 24. Against the Boston Red Sox Tuesday in a relief role he walked a batter on five pitches, and was replaced immediately.

Terrors Strong
In Three Relays,
Special Events

West, East to Offer Competition at Conference Gathering

POINTING for wins in at least three relays and enough points in the special events to be up among the leaders, Appleton High school track and field squad will leave tomorrow morning for the annual Fox River Valley Conference relay carnival at Manitowoc, Appleton. Green Bay East and West are slated to do most of the afternoon's battling with Oshkosh apt to be the darkhorse. Fond du Lac and Manitowoc are the other schools entered.

The meet this year will be the most spectacular in the history of the conference because two more relays have been added to the usual four. However, only one special track event, the 100-yard dash, will be run. The usual special field events are on the program.

The Terrors have been working for the past two weeks on the relay and some of the boys have shown just enough when bearing down against time to make Coach Joseph Shields wonder whether he shouldn't be making changes in what he thought were pretty fair setups.

Half Milers Undeclared
Coach Shields is inclined to like his chances in the half mile relay, the 440-yard relay and the mile relay. In the half mile, he will run Don Sadler, Ralph Colvin, Jack Sellers, and Howard Bixby, a quartet that hasn't been defeated this season. However, he's been flirting with the idea Barney Meyers would be better than Colvin since Barney Beat Ralph in a race the other evening over a short distance.

The 440-yard relay team also offers possibilities because it shows almost the same boys as the half mile. The quartet is composed of Sadler, Glenn Bowers, Sellers and Bixby and as each will run 110 yards they should burn up the cinders.

The mile relay is the other race the Terrors are pointing for. The team will show four boys each running a quarter mile and Shields selections are Fred Oliver, Ralph Colvin, Glenn Bowers and Jack Sellers. The latter two runners are a couple of the best quarter milers in school while Colvin should be able to gallop a quarter in excellent time because it is only half the distance of his pet race, the half mile. Oliver, too, should turn in pretty fair time for he has been running just a few seconds slower than Sellers.

May Furnish Surprise
Appleton's two-mile team may offer a surprise. It will show George Swamp, Emerson Jurg, Anthony Gerarden and Kay Rogers each running a half mile and some of the other schools will have to be good to beat them. The first two mile, Oliver and Sellers, while the latter two usually run the mile.

Four more or less rookie members of the squad will run the medley relay. Sonny Filz has been selected to scamper the 220 yard dash. Edward Witter will take up for the 440, Ed Freude for the half and Werner for the mile. A possible change is Rogers in the mile instead of Victor Werner, depending on what the other schools show and how many points the Terrors need.

Filz, Freude and Werner are sophomores and Witter a Junior.

The other team is the shuttle relay squad, the timber toppers. They are Don Rohloff, who has only recently been developed as a hurdler, Barney Meyers, who has been showing promise all season, Glenn Bowers and Ken Slattery. The latter two are the regular hurdlers on the team.

Appleton also will have a strong field in the special events. Vince Jones is being looked upon as a possible record maker and sure first place winner in the shot and discus. Bowers, Slattery and Vince Dutcher also will compete in the discus and Slattery in the shot.

Sadler, Bixby and Filz will be entered in the 100-yard dash. Karl Bohnsack and Earl McKee in the pole vault. Slattery in the high jump and Sellers, Bohnsack, Filz and Sadler in the broad jump.

Record times for the four relays which have been run annually are: Half-mile, 1 minute 35.1 seconds, held by Appleton; one-mile, 3 minutes 32.8 seconds, held by Appleton; two-mile, 8 minutes 25 seconds, held by Green Bay West; and medley relay, 8 minutes 14 seconds, held by Manitowoc. All of the records were set up last year at Green Bay West.

The pole vault and shot put will be started at 1:30 p. m. and the shuttle relay is the first track event scheduled for 1:45. Trials in the 100-yard dash will follow and the medley relay is scheduled for about 2:30 o'clock.

Officials of the meet include: referee and starter, Rex K. John;

ENTERED IN RELAY CARNIVAL

One of the new relay races on the Valley conference program at Manitowoc, scheduled tomorrow, is the shuttle relay and above are the four Appleton High school boys who will comprise the Terror team. The boys are, left to right, Don Rohloff, Barney Meyers, Fred Oliver and Ken Slattery. In the relay each will carry a baton over the 120-yard high hurdles. (Post-Crescent Photo)

FOLLOWERS of the American Softball league saw another close and interesting game last night at Roosevelt school field when the Woolen Mills defeated the Coated Papers, 4 to 0, with the champions getting a hit off Ole Lorenz, tossing for the Woolens. The winners counted 11 hits off Bob Eggert but he was tough in the pinches.

Paul Ganzen, with a homer, and a perfect night at the plate, Pete Koll with two hits in three tries and W. Refke with a triple in two tries, were the Woolen bat stars. N. Pope had a double for the Woolens. Both pitchers fanned five batters while Lorenz gave three walks. Fielding plays featured the game. W. Refke made a nice stop of a line drive in the fifth and doubled L. Schroeder off second and Ray Crane had five assists and three putouts for the Woolens. L. Schroeder starred afield for the Coated.

Grangers at Greenville Merchants, Shiocton at Black Creek, Dale at Hortonville.

HORTONVILLE — Hortonville baseball team in the Outagamie County league, which won the second round title last season, but which isn't doing so well this year, will play its first home game Sunday at "Dynes Country Club." The contest will feature Hortonville's greatest rival, Dale. The game will start at 2:15.

Hortonville expects to use Freddie Buchman on the mound with Joe Sams doing the receiving. Dale will lose Southpaw Kaufman with Schultz catching.

Two other "naturals" are on the afternoon's program. Greenville Grange, leading the circuit with three wins in as many starts, will move over to the Greenville Merchant diamond and stage a battle for township honors. Kurzinski is expected to leave for the Grangers and Dais Crowe for the Merchants.

The other "natural" will have Shiocton over at Black Creek. The Creekers have won two starts out of three while the Shiocton team split in two games. Joe Fitzgerald is expected to toss for the Creekers against his "home folks," while C. McCaskey will do the catching. The Shiocton pitchers will be Miller or Smokey Lathrop.

LAND O' LAKES LEAGUE

SEYMOUR — Either Seymour or Bonduel baseball team will be knocked out of the undefeated class and first place in the Land of Lakes league Sunday afternoon when they meet at Bonduel. However, Seymour is confident that big Al Bauers will carry it through to a win if his mates get a couple runs. Cecil, the other undefeated club in the loop, draws Oconto Falls while Gillett goes to Krakow.

PIGEON RIVER VALLEY — Marion club in the Pigeon River Valley league, which opened the race last week with a powerful 20 to 4 win over Bear Creek, will get another shot at the "Creekers" Sunday afternoon on the latter's diamond. The week's games in the loop are just the reverse of last Sunday. Embarrass goes to Symco while Clintonville will seek another one-sided win over Maple Valley at Clintonville.

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Green Bay and Oshkosh, the leaders of the Northern Valley league, will run into stiff opposition Sunday and make changes are due in the league standings.

The Green Bay Thomas Drugs play host to the Menasha Eagles and will be trying to retain their position on top of the league while Menasha will be out after its first win and a chance to jump out of the cellar.

Oshkosh Cab nurse invades Neenah in what promises to be one of the closest battles of the week. Oshkosh was upset by Appleton last week and will have to beat the Neenah team to hold the league lead.

What promises to be the battle of the week will take place in Appleton when the Grand Chute Merchants meet the Green Bay Tavern team at the third ward field. Both clubs broke into the win column last week by bumping over the league leaders. Cliff Burton, Lawrence college athlete on the mound for Grand Chute, set the Green Bay team down with five hits last Sunday when it won 7 to 6 in the best game of the week. Appleton took a slugfest from Oshkosh 14-10.

Expect New London and Shawano to Battle for N. E. W. Track Honors

Schools Gather Tomorrow For Annual Tournament at Neenah

ALTHOUGH the comparative strength of Northwestern Wisconsin conference high school track teams was pretty well tested last week in the district Class B meet at Green Bay, the schools will gather again Saturday afternoon at Neenah High school field for their annual tournament. The meet will start at 1 o'clock.

In the district tournament Shawano High school placed first with 49 points with New London second with 47. West DePere third with 38, Neenah fourth with 33 and Kaukauna sixth with 10. Kiel High school horned in for 16 points and around those markers will center the battle Saturday afternoon.

To the coaches have been studying the times and places at the Bay meet and devising ways and means of picking up a point here or there by nosing out someone else. For instance, at New London, Coach Delbert Stacy hopes to have Bob Yost ready for competition and if the youngster competes Stacy sees a first in the high jump where Yost is the conference titlist.

Coach Ole Jorgenson of Neenah will have designs too, for he rushed away last week with some of his charges behind because of a mixup in the starting time of the meet. He feels he should be able to qualify more boys than he had at the Bay and that they should win him a few extra points.

However, based on the showing of the athletes at the district meet, the various entries should shape up something like this:

Berken Taps in Dash. 100-yard dash—Berken of West DePere should cop this event with Moffert, Shawano, or Haertl, Neenah second. Peterson, Kaukauna, will take at least fourth if he runs with Allister, Shawano, fifth. Peterson may concentrate on the hurdles.

220-yard dash. Berken, West DePere, again. Moffert ran second at the Bay with Johnson, West DePere third, but Haertl, Neenah, should have something to say about that. Fourth and fifth will be a tussle with Allister, Shawano, taking one or two others.

440-yard run. Lambert, Kaukauna, is a stand-out in the 440 but Clark, New London, will press him. Menasha, New London, looks like third with Vander Wolk, Neenah, running third or fourth and Lambert, Shawano, fifth.

Half mile. Schmidt, Neenah, the Red Rocket freshman, should land a first place here easily. Shawano will have a couple runners in second and third with Wilkinson, New London, about fourth, and fifth going to anyone.

One mile. McPherson, Neenah, for first but if he isn't right Utech, West DePere, will be on his heels. Gore, Shawano, looks good for third. Smith and Zernicke, New London, for fourth and fifth. High hurdles—It's doubtful if anyone can keep Hartman, Shawano, out of the first place. Schmidt, New London, and Peterson, Kaukauna, will fight for second, Stern, New London, and Dodge, Neenah for fourth.

Low hurdles. Another first for Hartman, Clark and Stern, New London, will be aiming at second, with Peterson, Kaukauna, probably a challenger if he's used. Sword, Neenah, should pick up a point or two.

Yost in High Jump If. High jump—Yost, New London, to take first if he competes. Wittenborn, Neenah, if he doesn't. The other points will be split by Hoier, New London, McPherson and Gottschalk, Shawano.

Pole vault. Van Sistine, West DePere, and Clark, New London, will fight for first place. Rosin, Shawano, McPherson, Shawano and Stern, New London, will split the other points.

Broad jump. Wittenborn, Neenah, and Yost, New London, to rank one, two. Brault, New London, will be about third, and Bowman, Shawano, and Meinhardt, New London, showing.

Shot. Vaessens, DePere, pushed the shot 41 feet, 8 inches for first at the Bay. Robbins, Shawano, will be second or first. Runge, Neenah, third, with fourth and fifth wide open.

Discus. Berken, West DePere, got off the best toss among the N. E. W. entrants at the Bay. Glocke, New London, will be dangerous as will Dobbstein, New London.

Relay. Shawano's team of Meisler, Hartman, Bowman and Allister looks tough. Neenah took third at the district meet but it probably will be better tomorrow and may be second. New London and West DePere will battle for third and fourth.

Newport Awaits Word From Racing Sloop. Newport, R. I. — Newport waited calmly today for word of T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour I, possible American's cup challenger, unreported since she snapped her tow line a week ago and lost her convey on the stormy Atlantic 1,000 miles from Newport.

Word of the accident reached here yesterday with arrival of the convey power yacht Viva. The Viva's skipper, Captain Wallace Grint, expressed confidence in the safety of the racing sloop and her crew of 19.

Boston coast guard headquarters said it had been told the sloop reached all well a day after the tow line parted.

"I expect she will poke her nose in here late Saturday or sometime Sunday," Grint said.

The queen, Miss Crain, and her attendants will present the awards to the winning athletes.

Brewer Rookie Trims Louisville In Twelve Frames

Bill Zuber Allows Nine Hits; Win Is Fifth Straight

CHICAGO — (AP)—Remember old Wilsey Moore, the sinker-ball expert who did some great relief pitching for the New York Yankees a decade ago?

He's still around, saving games for other Kansas City pitchers in American association warfare. He was rushed into action last night at Indianapolis after the Indians had filled the bases on Johnny Niggling, and pitched in oldtime form to stop the rally without a run being scored. He was knicked for five hits during his two and a fraction innings of service and was scored on twice in the ninth but was still good enough to save an 8 to 6 for Niggling.

Indianapolis outlit the Blues 15 to 11, but had 15 men left on the pads, to seven for the winners. Johnny Welch, former Chicago Cub and Boston Red Sox hurler, held Toledo to four singles, as St. Paul shut out the Mud Hens 3 to 0, in another number on a full program of night games.

Minneapolis won its second straight of the series with Columbus behind Walter Tauscher's effective pitching, 3 to 1. Bill Zuber, Milwaukee's star rookie hurler, went 12 innings in the other game to achieve his fifth straight victory of the season, 3 to 2, over Louisville. He allowed nine hits over the route, two more than the Brewers collected off three Coloneel pitchers, but was effective in tight spots. The Brewers were presented with the deciding run when Walt Signer, second of the Louisville mound trio, issued a walk with the bases full in the first half of the twelfth session.

Kobals Defeat Gold Labels, 3-2

Sonny Filz Hurls 2-Hit Ball For Victors in Non-League Game

Behind the 2-hit pitching of Sonny Filz, Kobals defeated the Menasha Gold Labels in a non-league softball game at Menasha Thursday evening by a 3 to 2 count. The fracas was a nip and tuck affair until the sixth frame when the Taverners let loose to score three runs.

With Steer and Filz on the sacks through a walk and hit, De Decker cracked out a double to score two of the runs. The Labels scored their two tallies in the last frame when Knoll, pitcher, blasted out a homer with Strutz on base.

Baseball's Only Woman Scout Off on New Trip

McKinney, Tex.—(AP)—Baseball's only woman scout, Mrs. Roy Largent, left today for her sock darning today to tell of "her boys."

With 13 seasons of combing the minors for the Chicago White Sox behind her, she has sent many a star to the Windy City.

Luke Appling, the 1936 batting champ, was her find. Zeke Bonura, slugging first sacker, another. And there's Monte Stratton, Rip Radcliff, Johnny Whitehead and Vern Kennedy.

The warm spot in Mrs. Largent's heart belongs to Stratton, lean six foot, five inch twirler with two shutouts on his record already this season.

Just a boy of 19 in overalls when found, Stratton was a frequent visitor at her home and was most adept at lifting Mrs. Largent's gingerbread cookies from the jar, she remembered.

Most interesting of all her "boys" however, was Art (What-a-Man) Shires.

"I liked Art Shires because he was husky, aggressive and could hit the ball a mile," she said. Mrs. Largent's husband, Roy, accompanies her on all her trips. Every day during the baseball season they see a game somewhere—once it was four.

Today, the Largents, having signed three prospects out of the Southwest conference, left by automobile for Louisiana. They'll drive 60,000 miles, touring the smaller leagues this year.

asked their hosts which way to drive. "That way," replied the home boys, pointing. "So the Marqueters drove 'that way' quite well. . . . Imagine how they felt when the locals teed up and headed in the opposite direction. . . . Marquette's golfers took 8's and 9's on the hole, while the home boys holed out in 4's.

Correction: Stan Bordagaray of the Cardinals and not Wally Berger of the Bees is the outfielder the Giants are dickering for. . . . (But the fistcuffs the other day may have delayed the deal). . . . Benny Huffman, now catching regularly for the Browns, was behind the state Bridgewater college, a small institution of only 150 students, a year ago. How's that for leaping? . . . Can it be true that Al Weill intends to turn down a guarantee of $50,000 for Lou Ambers to defend his lightweight crown against Pedro Montanez? . . . Quick Watson, a shot!

One major league manager who doesn't grow old is Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox. . . . Lou Brix is on the way to Detroit with bantamweight champ Sixto to Escobar to close for a title shot against K. O. Morgan under Jack Kearns' auspices. . . . Sixto will take the bait if the club can agree on a date before July 15. . . . Otherwise, he is going to London to fight Peter Kane for a $15,000 guarantee. . . . Have you bought your ticket to the Braddock-Schmeling fight yet?

Officially, president Ford Frick had to slap on a fine or two for the riot in St. Louis. Privately and confidentially, he probably wishes he had been on hand to see it and report it for the papers as he used to do before he became an exec.

Air Race Planned For Riverview C. C. Golfers Tomorrow

Charles Lindbergh flew across the Atlantic ocean ten years ago and tomorrow at Riverview Country Club Jake Matthews will stage a golf tournament to learn what kind of aviators Riverview members are. The golfers will fly on a scheduled route starting from Newark west. Each city at which they land will constitute a hop, one hop for each par, two hops for a birdie, three hops for an eagle and 9 hops for a dodo or a hole-in-one. The inexperienced fliers will have a chance too, because full handicaps will be used.

WANT CADDIES
Extra caddies are wanted at Butte des Morts Golf Club Saturday afternoon and Sunday for the tournaments scheduled there. Everett Leonard, pro, announced today.

Start at Newark and following the northern route westward, one hop is from Newark to Pittsburgh. At San Francisco the return trip is started back to hop to Los Angeles and then to Albuquerque. Eighteen hops by any player brings him back to Newark. If he can make more, he again starts westward. The player who travels farthest is the winner. A large map will be posted in the pro shop to plot the airports in which the fliers land. Prizes will be given the winner, second and third places.

Butte des Morts Golf club will have two tournaments over the weekend. Saturday afternoon the course will be used by golfing members of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents association while Sunday Fox River Valley Dental society members will stage their annual tournament.

Edison Fifth Graders Trip Columbus, 11-8
Collecting a total of 12 hits, the Edison school fifth grade softball team edged out an 11 to 8 win over the Columbus school fifth graders yesterday afternoon. The Edison club held the lead until the final frame when the losers 1otted the score at 8 all with 6 runs. The victors came back in the last half of the same frame to score three runs.

Charles Wallen, Carl Neidhold and Buddy Falatic connected with doubles for the winners. Frank Sanders and Neidhold each scored three runs. Five errors were chalked against the Edison while the losers had seven hits and seven errors. Krueger and Falatic hurled for Edison with Bailey at catch.

Score by innings:
Columbus 000 002 6-8
Edison 010 302 3-11

NEW STAR RISING
Milwaukee — A new Marquette university star is rising in the track firmament following the recent performance of Bob Shurilla. Gary, Ind., Hilltop freshman, in equalling the world's record of .054 seconds in the 40-yard high hurdles. Shurilla performed this feat as the Marquette freshman team defeated Michigan State frosh, 71-23 to 27-13, in a telegraphic dual meet.

American Loop Race Tightest In Many Seasons

Only 4 1-2 Games Separate First Place Team From the Cellar

BY SID FEDER Associated Press Sports Writer

THE whole thing doesn't make as much sense as an insane asylum, but the figures (which never lie) show the American league is off to a closer and more completely unlooked for start than it has been in years.

On the face of performances to date, the whole business doesn't add up—but there it is. True, the hitting in a league that features a "way out" but so is the pitching, so that shouldn't

By the end of the first month last year, five games separated first and fourth place. This season, the race was regarded as New York, Detroit, Cleveland and nothing much else. But so far it's been as tight as a mustard plaster all the way down the list—so close in fact, that only 4 1/2

Chapter 42
JUDGE RUNS AWAY

FOR this little while the knowledge that George loved her, even though he was going to marry Ellen, was upholding her. She faced the fact: it would not keep her happy. When he actually married Ellen, Eve did not know how she was going to bear it. Ellen adored him. She would be his wife, devoted wife. He was easy-tempered and kind. This was real life. The inevitable thing would happen: after a while Ellen and their children and their common interests would be everything to him. His love for Eve would inevitably fade to a pretty memory, a pressed apple blossom in a book opened once a year. The thought wrenched at her.

And Denny? She knew the worst of Denny and the best. They had been playmates and comrades and sweethearts in that bright hurried rootless city life which seemed now like a dimly recalled movie. They could be again. She had loved him; the love might return. If it didn't she could play her hand all the better.

It had only taken a moment to think all this. She opened her lips to speak; and then Denny laughed and snatched at the touch that it was no question of better or worse, wiser or more foolish. She could not marry Denny Carter. She moved slowly definitely from him.

"Come, Eve. It isn't like you to be so resentful. Any man would jib at marrying with a nine-year-old boy hung round his neck! I've come back and I am sorry and the water's over the milldam. That's all that matters, if you're the generous Eve I love. As for Judge, if he isn't well now he never will be, and after all, they're his parents. I'll finance his trip to Hollywood with my own fair hands."

"You're in Hawaii."

"Your gossip Marylin seems to have omitted a confidence. The old lady who was the transportation ticket is still in the hospital; when she found out she had to stay there she didn't keep them only in her house. Mitz had a letter asking for a loan."

"Yes, it's The House."

"Hush."

Eve had heard Judge coming in the doorway, rather early. She hoped he had not heard anything.

"Darling, speak to Denny and then do something for me, will you?" she said hurriedly. "Ellen is coming back for supper and I'm late. Set the table and put in some potatoes to bake like a good boy."

"How do you do, Denny. All right, Eve. I'll fix the potatoes."

Right, Eve. He went, and she heard him open and shut the kitchen door.

"Thank goodness," Denny said, stretching his arms in the late sunlight. "Eve darling, we're through having it out, aren't we? Come over here and be sweet to Denny."

She stood quiet in the radiance of the tall window. From where she was she could see the gleam of the old crossed swords in the dining room over the painting of Colonel Mannersfield; the little wooden painting of Patricia Denton, the plainly framed photograph of her own Aunt Lina by the door; the beautiful curve of the old stair itself. They were behind her as she answered.

"It isn't that I don't marry you, Den, but that I can't make myself marry you any more than I can make myself want to be a surgeon or a policeman! Don't you understand? I've turned back into the person I really am. You never knew her. And she never knew you."

"It's the house? This damn country place has got you. Once back in New York you'd be sane again!" She nodded. "Yes. The place - and what it stands for. You don't want a house - you don't want roots. You live in a rootless world. I can't any more. I'm the sort of person you and the crowd used to think was funny. Den, I want to do things to help the village. I want to be responsible. I want to hold on to a lot of platitudes. I've reverted to type - to what my house always stood for. You've made the answer yourself. The place has got me, Denny. So we'd better say goodbye. That is about all we could say to each other that we would both understand."

Judge Leaves A Note

She watched, presently his tall swinging figure going down the steps and wondered that she had no revulsion, no uneasy pain. For she knew there was love, love, love ahead of her. Even tonight would be hard, if Ellen made George come back here with her. But in spite of it all Eve knew she had done the only thing she could do.

The telephone caught her again. Was the house really burnt right down? Was the silver all lost? Had Lance Seymour really tried to drag her, shrieking, into the burning building? Was there insurance? And a dozen biscuits, and two quash pies and a couple of raspberry jams.

It was fully an hour before the shrieking instrument let her go. She hurried into the kitchen. The dining room table was set, the potatoes were done. She set them above the range and began to make the supper for Ellen and Uncle Henry.

"I found Uncle Henry rooting in the ruins with the rest of the village, so I rooted him out and dragged him home," she said. "George wouldn't come, he's gone back to the inn. Where's Judge? I have something for him."

But Judge was nowhere to be found, though Uncle Henry had the pippen and hallowed through the orchard and telephoned the inn.

"Not like him, well," Uncle Henry said, "well, we'll just eat without him."

Had he overheard something, Eve wondered suddenly, and had he gone off to try it out alone in his room? She ran upstairs, calling him through the halls, knocking at his door, finally entering.

It was empty and neat. On the bureau stood what she had half feared to see. An envelope addressed with pathetic neatness to her.

Dear Eve and Uncle Henry:

I am going to thumb to Hollywood. Do not worry as I have my $500. My piggy bank for you Uncle Henry, I am sorry I can't be here when she has little pigs. Please devise the pig money towards my board. I love you and am grateful that's why I'm going. I still am going to be a Supreme Court judge if possible. Love, Oliver Featherstone.

Uncle Henry, after one exclamation of pity and dismay, took command when he had read it.

"Ellen, call up the police station and have them send out a radio alarm. Then tell George to send somebody from the inn to hunt. Eve, so tell Adriano to take the car and follow down to the state road. What's all this about?"

She told them what she supposed, as briefly as she could. They had not known before the reason for the person I really am. You never

140 Members of Music Groups to Attend Tourney

Kaukauna Band, Orchestra, Glee Clubs in District Meet

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school band, orchestra, and boys and girls' glee clubs, comprising a traveling party of 140, will entrain tomorrow morning for West De Pere where the annual district band tournament, bringing together 3,000 student musicians from 28 schools, will be held.

Tomorrow's contests will mean the climax of over two months of work by the four music groups under the direction of Clarence Kriesa and Miss Lucille Austin.

The 47-piece band will be entered in Class C, the 22-piece orchestra in Class D, with boys glee club with 20 voices in Class C, and the girls glee club with 64 members in Class A. Besides competing in the music contests, the band will be entered in the marching competition. Janet McCarty is drum major.

Drill Exhibition
Playing and singing contests at the tournament will start at 8 o'clock in the morning and continue until 11:30 when a drilling exhibition will be given by R. O. T. C. students of St. Norbert college on the campus.

Contests will be resumed at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and finished at 3:30. The parade, outstanding outdoor feature of the one-day tournament, will be held at 4 o'clock. Dinner will be served to musical directors, superintendents, and principals in the college at 6 o'clock.

Bands will compete at 7 o'clock in the evening in the college gym. After this contest, the St. Norbert college band will play a concert and judges will meet to complete classification of the various musical groups. Announcements of places will be made at 10 o'clock.

The high school band and orchestra will each play three numbers and the two glee clubs will sing two selections. Students will return by train tomorrow night.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertens barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. Don Anderson is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 407. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

Kaukauna—The following officers were reelected at a meeting of the Catholic Women's Study club last night: Mrs. F. Grogan, president; Mrs. Otto Aufreiter, vice president; Mrs. L. F. Nelson, leader; Mrs. Mary Hooymann, secretary-treasurer.

A report on the Marinette convention was given by Mrs. Frank Schmidt and Mrs. H. Runte at last night's meeting, the last until next autumn. The club is planning a picnic to be held Friday, June 25, at the Nelson cottage on Lake Winnebago.

At a meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters held Wednesday evening, Mrs. Martin Verbeten and Miss Gertrude Klarer were prize winners in cards. The refreshment committee consisted of Mrs. Fred Mayer, Mrs. Albert Wolf, Mrs. John Hoffensperger, Mrs. Linda Stuber, Mrs. E. Matchett, and Mrs. Norman Weigman.

Six member of the Business and Professional Women's club left this morning for the state convention being held today and tomorrow at Wisconsin Dells. The following are attending: Nedra Nikles, club president, Mrs. A. R. Mill, Genevieve De Brue, Alma Renn, Bernice M. Happer, and Anna Wolf.

Boy Scouts Will Make Hiking Trip

Plan for Annual Camporee Being Made by Committees

Kaukauna — Twelve members of troop 31 of Boy Scouts will take a 14-mile hike to Wrightstown Sunday, it was decided at a meeting of the troop this week.

All the patrols have reported that they are prepared for the annual Camporee which will be held at New London. Each patrol has been assigned a task for the first annual scout rally which will be held in the high school gymnasium before the New London outing.

The next meeting of the troop will be held next Wednesday evening in the Holy Cross church hall at 6:45.

The three troops in the city, 31, 27 and 20, will take part in the rally in the gymnasium on Thursday night, June 3. Each troop will give a demonstration and a stunt and a beauty contest will be held. The

Plan Awards for School Play Day

Presentations Will be Made in Olympic Game Style

Kaukauna — Students winning places in contests in the first annual Kaukauna High school play day which will be held either Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon of next week will be given their awards in ceremonies resembling those in the Olympic games, according to plans of the general committee.

At the end of each event, the winners of the first five places will mount a platform and the first three will be given ribbons.

Bleachers will be erected on the field, and a score board will carry the running tally of points. Special events which will be held besides the relays and field contests are as follows: boys tug of war, girls tug of war, mixed tug of war, boys softball game, and girls softball game.

Members of Quill and Scroll, high school literary society, will entertain and sell refreshments on the athletic field during activities. Committees are as follows: R. Otto, M. Hooymann, E. Weirauch, G. Grogan, Lorraine McCabe, M. Maley, refreshments; Robert Knox, M. Kallista, L. Rausch, Burton Holmes, R. Boetz, entertainment; R. Weber and Reed Mullen, announcements.

NEENAH MAN FINED

Kaukauna—Found guilty of disorderly conduct, Roy Hoffman of Neenah paid a fine of $2 and costs before Judge Abe Goldin in justice court yesterday. Hoffman was arrested Wednesday.

schedule of contests is as follows: life line, compass relay, blanket stretcher race, O'Grady drill, Paul Revere race, fire making contest, and knot tying relay. Contest awards will be distributed following competition.

2 Boys Held at Waupaca For Illinois Officials

Waupaca—Two 13-year-old boys from Evanston, Ill., are awaiting the arrival of officers from that city who were notified that the boys were held by the sheriff's department when an accident aroused the suspicions of the manager of a local garage. The boys were driving an automobile Thursday afternoon when the machine bumped into a car parked in front of a restaurant on Main street. Traffic Officer Roy Myhill, failing to get satisfactory answers to his inquiries, wired the authorities at Evanston where he learned that the car was one reported missing from a used car lot of that city.

Waupaca Lions Name Convention Delegates

Waupaca—President-elect Charles Bremen, past District Governor A. M. Scheller, William Roach and L. J. Stadler are delegates from the Waupaca Lions club, and will represent the local den at the state convention at Racine, which opens Sunday for three days.

Teachers to Attend Meeting at Neenah

Kaukauna — Theodore Boettcher and Martin F. Hoffmann, instructors at the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran school, will go to Neenah tomorrow to attend a conference of Lutheran school instructors. Teachers from New London, Hortonville, Weyauwega, Appleton, and Kaukauna will be present at the meeting, the last of the school year.

3/4 cup milk 2 teaspoons cornstarch

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Cut in Spry until mixture is as fine as corn meal. (Done so quickly and easily with triple-creamed Spry.) Combine beaten egg and milk and add to dry ingredients, mixing until a soft dough is formed. Knead lightly on floured board for about 20 seconds. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness.

Cut in 12 circles the size of the pineapple slices. Place 6 circles on baking sheet, greased with Spry, and put a slice of pineapple on each. Sprinkle pineapple with 1/2 cup brown sugar and dot with 1 tablespoon butter. Cover with remaining circles of dough from which the centers have been cut to fit pineapple centers. Press edges firmly together, place 2 cherries in each cavity, and bake in very hot oven (450° F) 15 minutes. This will be beautifully light and fine-textured, thanks to Spry.

Heat fruit juices. Combine remaining brown sugar with cornstarch and add, stirring until mixture thickens. Cook 10 minutes. Add remaining butter and serve as sauce with shortcakes. Serves 6.

The new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening - TRIPLE-CREAMED!

Want to please YOUR husband? Here's a tip!

BAKE with Spry and watch him beam! He'll love Spry cakes and pastry—they're extra light and tender, finer-flavored. And so easy to make with triple-creamed Spry. It blends with your other ingredients twice as fast. Fry with Spry, too. Foods are crisp, golden, doubly delicious and as digestible as if baked. And no smoke when frying. Get Spry today—you'll love it!

HERE'S ANOTHER TIP. BUY THE 3-LB. CAN. YOU SAVE MONEY

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity. You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals. Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonsful every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases. You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take, and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Winnebago Day School Pupils To Give Program

Parents and Guests Will be Entertained With Musical Selections

Menasha—Music students of the Winnebago day school will present a musical program for parents and guests Friday, May 28, at the school, Richard H. Bell, director, announced today.

Miss Jean Howell, music instructor, is preparing the pupils in rehearsals being conducted at the school. A rhythm band comprised of students of the first, second, third and fourth grades will feature the program. Songs will be sung by pupils of the various grades and several piano solos will be presented.

An unusual feature of the program will be the singing of 4-year-old children, pupils of the kindergarten. Small children do not usually sing, the director said, a fact which should make the program interesting to adults.

Following is the program: rhythm band, "Turkish March," by Beethoven; and "Roses of the South," by Strauss; vocal selections by first and second grade pupils, "Pussy Willows," "Three Little Meadows," "Pretty Little Bluebird," "Meadowlark," "Robin Red Breast," "Ten Tiny Fiddlers," "The Winds," a Merry Comrade.

Song Selections
Song selections by the 4-year-old kindergarten pupils, "Snow Men," "See Saw," "The Turtle," "Big Tall Indian," "Duck Duck," and "The Animals"; vocal selections by pupils of the third and fourth grades, "The Brook," by Bach; "My Heart Even Faithful," "Laughing Spring," by Mozart; "Two," by Beethoven; "Roses of the South," by Strauss; "Thanks and Praise," by Mendelssohn.

Pizza Stuart will present a piano solo and Christine Turner and Miss Jean Howell will give a piano duet. Concluding the program, the rhythm band will play "Soldier's Chorus," by Verdi, and "Gavotte," by Goss.

A record familiarity contest, which is being conducted at the school, will culminate with the music program. Students will listen to various symphony records and the one recognizing the largest number, will be named the winner.

Edit Final Issue Of School Paper

Old and New Editorial Staffs to Work Together on Edition

Menasha—A final commencement and Memorial day edition of the Nicolet News, Menasha High school newspaper, will be issued during the last week of this month, according to an announcement in the paper.

The present staff will edit and publish the paper assisted by members of the staff recently elected to publish the paper next fall. The paper is usually published bi-weekly by the journalistic group of the high school.

Menasha Policemen At Safety Meeting

Menasha—Five members of the Menasha police department attended the Fox River Valley Safety Council meeting held at Oshkosh Thursday. They attended the street, highway and school safety session concentrating on traffic safety. Frank B. Keefe, Oshkosh, and Donald S. Berry, national safety council, Chicago, were the principle speakers.

Those who attended were Lawrence Jakowski, George Resch, William Godhardt, Frank Ryan and Clarence Resch.

See Possibility Of Settlement Of Oshkosh Strike

Member of State Mediation Board Is Speaker at Conference

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau)
Oshkosh—Possibility of settlement of the Oshkosh woodworking strike which has kept nearly 2,000 men idle and closed 8 factories, appeared probable over the weekend with the appearance in Oshkosh of a member of the Wisconsin Mediation Board.

Voyta Wraetz, state industrial commissioner and member of the mediation board gave his scheduled address before the safety conference, Thursday morning. Later, it is reported, he met with Mayor C. A. Wiechering. Unofficially, it was stated he went into conference with Henry Schreiber, deputy industrial commissioner, and Bert Phillips, president of the Oshkosh local of the Woodworking unions on strike.

Phillips, Myron Jovaag, union organizer, and other leaders stated before the conference that the big obstacle preventing settlement and the men going back to work was the demand for a closed shop. It was reported that employers here have made concessions in regard to wages and hours, but balk at the closed shop.

Agreement Near?

Appearance of Wraetz in Oshkosh, following closely on Mayor Wiechering's appeal to both employers and unions to get together to settle their differences, was regarded as a sign that an agreement might be near.

A benefit dance was announced today by Ed Hall, president of the Oshkosh and Vicinity Merchants association, to be held Monday night at the Eagles ballroom, for the families of all union men on strike.

At least 6 orchestras have been arranged for by Harvey Holzer of the musicians' union, and he requested that all unemployed union musicians contact him at once. Representatives of labor unions affiliated with the C. I. O. in Oshkosh, which now has a membership of more than 2,000, met Thursday night to discuss purchasing a hall to be used for local meetings.

A meeting has been called, also, C. O. Wickmann, president of Local 291, U. M. W., said, for workers employed nights in Oshkosh plants. A general mass-meeting to vote on purchase of a council hall has been called for Monday night.

Co-operation between the unions and the employers after an agreement has been signed, was stressed at the meeting. And a plea for harmony between rival unions in Oshkosh of the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. were voiced by Wickmann who stated both had their special field. He stated that he believed in extending the closest co-operation to other union groups in Oshkosh, regardless of their affiliation.

Ask Sealed Bids For Improvements

Will be Opened at 7 O'Clock Friday Evening, June 4

Neenah—Sealed bids for improving N. Commercial street from W. North Water street to Nicolet boulevard will be opened by the committee on public improvements at 7 o'clock Friday evening, June 4, at the city hall. Alternate proposals are being sought.

Contracts will be let for materials, supervision, machinery, equipment and skilled labor with common labor being furnished by WFA. Installation of new curb and gutter is included in each alternative bid.

One bid calls for removal of the present brick surfacing and replacing with 7-inch reinforced concrete. Prices will be sought on removal of brick and replacing with 6-inch reinforced concrete and a 2-inch sheeting of asphalt.

Bids will be asked for a 2-inch sheeting of asphalt over the present brick surface or a 2-inch cold mix surface over the brick. The street will be widened to 48 feet and the length of it is about 1,800 feet. Work will begin immediately upon awarding of the contract. A separate bid is being asked for necessary materials.

COMMISSION TO MEET
Menasha—The Menasha Water and Light commission will hold a regular meeting at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the water and light plant. It is expected that officers will be elected.

Reduce Accidents In Industry More Than 50 Per Cent

State Can be Proud of Its Achievement, States Gov. LaFollette

(Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau)
Oshkosh—Wisconsin has reduced accidents in industry more than 50 per cent in the last 25 years, Governor Philip F. LaFollette told an audience of more than 800 Thursday night at the banquet of the Fox River Valley and Lake Shore Safety Conference, held in armory 'B'.

Governor LaFollette quoted facts and figures to show that Wisconsin has much to be proud of in the field of gains made in industrial safety and state compensation for accidents.

"Our state can be justly proud of the progress made in the last generation, particularly in regard to safety in industry," he said.

He asserted that in the last 25 years of "economic and mental strain" that one of the state's outstanding achievements has been the workmen's compensation law. This law, he declared, provides real compensation without legal obstacles and the low rate is aided by the reduction in industry.

Praise Law
"Many opponents of Wisconsin's enactment of the compensation law later praised it, after seeing it in operation," asserted the governor. "Though Wisconsin has the highest benefits paid of any state in the union, it likewise has the lowest cost for its type, due largely to the work of the safety councils."

He pointed out this record for safety was not attained easily or immediately, but achieved through long years of building up from the foundation.

"Our citizens should take inspiration from the past," the governor said, "to solve some of the present problems which now are challenging us. The same pioneer spirit used then to solve the problems of the past should be applied now," he said.

E. J. Dempsey, Oshkosh attorney who acted as toastmaster, introduced Wisconsin's governor, and reminded the conditions that existed before the compensation law went into effect. He cited one case of a badly injured woman worker in a paper mill, who managed after four years to bring her case to the attention of the supreme court, only to lose her case because of lack of proof.

Menasha—Organization of the various teams which are to participate in the annual Boy Scout drive in Menasha on May 27 and 28 has been completed, with only one or two of the captains to be heard from, according to a report today.

This indicates a better spirit of enthusiasm than has ever before been evidenced, for the captains were appointed only two days ago and already they have filled the rosters of their teams to practically full strength.

The boast that there will be "one thousand friends of the Boy Scout movement in Menasha" seems to be an assured certainty, but the committee in charge is leaving nothing undone which can be done to assure complete success for the short, vigorous campaign.

Captains of the 1937 teams include some of the veterans of past campaigns and also some newcomers, as the organization chairman has endeavored to continue to introduce new personalities in the personnel of the finance committee of which these teams are a part.

Fish Plans Strong Team
John Fish, who has been a first-place winner on the "Foxes" during the last two years, will be the captain of the "Lynxes" this year, and he has organized a strong team of veterans to assist him.

Another newcomer will be Don M. Sawyer, who will be captain of the "Grizzlies" and will vie quite largely with the "Mountain Lions," which will be led by Ira Clough, Jr., and which also is made up of men largely from the Menasha Products Company. A keen spirit of friendly competition is already under way between these two squads.

Harold Griffith, veteran of the 1935 and 1936 campaigns, will again lead the "Wildcats" and John Geiger, who has led the "Foxes" for the past two years will again direct the work of that team, with Ralph Sues, another veteran, in charge of the "Tigers."

The "Panthers" which were led last year by Wes Saecker will have Silas L. Spengler as their captain this year, with Saecker assisting. Russell Lyon of the "Badgers" is organizing on a roving commission basis. The complete personnel of teams will be announced on Monday.

Student Makes Sketch
On Stencil for Paper
Menasha—A complete sketch of the new Menasha High school appeared in the May 17 issue of the Nicolet News, mimeographed newspaper, edited by pupils of the school.

The art work was done by Mary Louise Johnson, staff artist, who has been doing some fine work on the paper this year. Considering the difficulty of detail work on a stencil, the reproduction is exceptionally fine. The sketch is an exact reproduction of the architect's sketch published in the Post-Crescent recently.

SENTENCE VAGRANT
Menasha—Mike Bauer, Milwaukee, was sentenced to 15 days in the Winnebago county jail in justice court this morning on a charge of vagrancy. He was arrested yesterday by Menasha police and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Arthur Ales.

Foreign War Veterans
To Elect Delegates
Neenah—Delegates to the annual state encampment at Wausau beginning June 24 will be elected at a meeting of the Nicolet post, No. 2126, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, at 8 o'clock Monday evening at S. A. Cook armory. William S. Campbell is commander of the Twin City post.

Neenah Personals
Neenah—William H. Cramer, will spend the weekend with his parents in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Robert Kiloreen, 126 E. North Water street, underwent a major operation at Theda Clark Memorial hospital this morning.

Vacations to Give Added Impetus to Activities Of Twin City Younger Set

Neenah—Mrs. John McNaughton, Lakeshore avenue, who has just returned from a trip around the world will hardly get her home opened before she will entrain again for a trip that will take her to Shelbyville, Ky., where she will attend the graduation exercises at Science Hill school from which her daughter Jean graduates this year.

Joan will remain in Kentucky to take the state board examinations and visit with friends, Margaret McNaughton, another daughter, who accompanied her mother on the trip, will go to Kentucky with Mrs. McNaughton.

Social activities among the younger set in the Twin Cities will take on added impetus as June ushers in summer vacations for college students.

Arriving home June 1 will be Miss Katherine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mowry Smith, Nicolet boulevard, who is a student at Ashley hall, Charleston, S. C.

Jeanne Sage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sage, 501 E. Wisconsin avenue, student at Vassar, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will arrive in Neenah about June 3.

Reunion in Chicago
Mrs. Kimberly Stuart, 583 E. Wisconsin avenue, will go to Chicago early in June to meet her daughter Mary who will arrive there from Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.

Polly Mahler, young daughter of the Ernst Mahler's, E. Forest avenue, is also a student at Dobbs school and will be arriving home about June 3 week also.

Miss Laura Thickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thickens, 360 Park street, Menasha, who is a student at Wellesley college in Massachusetts, has been appointed usher for the graduation exercises at Wellesley and then will be a guest of William Alford, Santiago, Calif., for June Week at the Annapolis Military Academy in Baltimore. She is expected home about the middle of June.

To Stay in New York
Nancy Kimberly, daughter of the Dan L. Kimberly's, 569 E. Wisconsin avenue, who is a student at Neighborhood Playhouse, New York City, will not be home this summer.

Not until the middle of June will Alice Perry Bergstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Bergstrom, 561 E. Wisconsin avenue, and Mimi Mory, daughter of Mrs. K. B. Mory, 429 E. Wisconsin avenue, arrive in Neenah to spend the summer vacation. Both young women are students at Miss Maderia's school in Washington, D. C.

Priscilla and Catherine Gilbert, students at Miss Hall's school in Pittsfield, Mass., will not be home until the middle of June. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gilbert, 620 E. Wisconsin avenue. Nick Gilbert, a son, who is a student at Choate in Wallingford, Conn., will also be home for the summer about June 12.

Led by mounted police and followed by the Oshkosh High school band, led by F. H. Jebe, as well as the high school Honor band, hundreds of Oshkosh children carrying placards advocating safety in home and school, braved the chilly weather.

Impressive displays and novelty floats also helped swell the parade. The display of the Winnebago County Highway department, with safety signs painted on snowplows and scrapers, as well as the many floats entered by Oshkosh business concerns caused much comment.

One of the features of the parade was the hauling through the streets cars which had been wrecked and partially demolished in accidents. And on all the cars were hung appropriate warnings.

Mayor C. A. Wiechering, Judge Henry P. Hughes and many other Oshkosh officials took part in the 1-day conference. Voyta Wraetz, Wisconsin industrial commissioner, and Gov. Phil. F. LaFollette, also were in the city.

Gov. LaFollette gave an address at the Armory 'B' following the banquet, at 6:30 o'clock. The subject of his talk was "The Progress of Industrial Safety."

Commission Against

Moving Bath House

Neenah—The proposal to move the bath house at the municipal bathing beach about 30 feet back from the water has been delayed until the water works commission determines what use shall be made of the property, according to a decision made at a meeting of the committee on parks and public buildings and the water works commission at the site yesterday afternoon.

Alderman Robert Martens, chairman of the committee, suggested at a recent council meeting that the structure be moved back to a reservoir. The reservoir was removed this spring and filled in. The water works intended to utilize this space for other purposes and an agreement will be reached at a future meeting.

Kiwanians to Meet

At Cottage on Lake

Neenah—The meeting of the Neenah Kiwanis club scheduled for Wednesday noon at the Valley Inn has been canceled in favor of a meeting at the L. O. Cooke cottage, town of Menasha, at 5:30 Wednesday evening.

A fish fry is planned and members of the club intend to catch the fish Tuesday afternoon at Adella beach. The meeting will be in charge of Dr. H. F. Beglinger and the fishing party is in charge of Otto Lieber. Max Schalk will be in charge of the meeting June 9 and Mr. Lieber is program chairman June 16.

Food from chicken on down was offered Lester Brockelhurst, the "tourist slayer" whose "thrill" escapades have enraged the middlewest and southwest, when he arrived at the Lompke, Ark., jail to await trial for the slaying of Victor Gates. Here he is shown with his girl companion, Bernice Felton. She chose roast beef and he took hamburger.

Art Exhibit Being Held At Winnebago Day School

Menasha—Forty-eight reproductions of the work of living American artists are on exhibit at the Winnebago Day school this week and informal study of them is being made by the students. The reproductions are being exhibited by a group, organized to further the work of living American art. Each picture was chosen by a jury comprised of Adolf Dehn, Alexander Brook, Louis Bouche and Hughes Means.

Many universities, art schools and art galleries have exhibited the collection and students at Winnebago Day school are fortunate to have the privilege of informal study of them. Robert Bell, principal stated.

Of the movement to exhibit reproductions of work by living American artists, it has been said, "the movement will probably do more to stimulate a love of good art than anything that has been done recently."

In connection with the exhibit which opened Monday, a parent-teacher gathering was held Monday evening at the Winnebago Day school with Alden McGrew, Lawrence college, Appleton, presenting an illustrated lecture on art.

Mrs. John Witterling, 365 Cleveland street, was chairman of the hosts committee and Mrs. S. F. Shattuck, Mrs. Donald Turner, Mr. Reginald Waldo and Mrs. Ted Yoonan assisted her.

Students at Winnebago Day school also had the privilege of hearing Tony Sarg, famous marionette man, in a half hour entertainment Thursday when he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pickard, E. Forest avenue, Neenah. The Pickards entertained guests at North Shore Country club Thursday evening at "an evening with Tony Sarg."

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Mahler, E. Forest avenue, the students were also entertained Friday with a trained dog act.

Chalk Sketches Feature

William Hahnen Awarded Scout Badge of Honor

Gains Eagle Ranking After Three Years of Scouting

Menasha—William Hahnen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hahnen, Menasha, was awarded the highest honor given to Boy Scouts when he received his Eagle Scout badge at a court of honor conducted for boys of Congregational troop No. 14, Boy Scouts of America, last night in Congregational hall. Frank Younger, Jr., received his Star Scout badge.

Waldo Friedland, a member of the valley council, presented the badge to Hahnen and lauded the boy for his excellent progress in scouting. Hahnen has been in scout work for only three years and in that time has gone from a tenderfoot to second class, third class, star scout and finally eagle scout rank.

Six other members of the troop were advanced in rank and received their badges from members of the troop committee. They are Carl Loeschner, Dave Kreider and Fred Landskron, tenderfoot; Neal Baldaut, second class; and William Gear and Waldo Friedland, Jr., third class.

Merit badges were awarded to the following boys: Norman Michie, reading and swimming; William Hahnen, carpentry, swimming, life saving and wood carving; Frank Younger, Jr., swimming and music; Herbert Hartung, wood carving. The program was conducted by parent and guests of troop members. A large crowd attended. Robert M. Schwartz is scoutmaster of the troop.

Seymour Fire Department Is Planning Fun Festival

Seymour—The Seymour Fire Department will hold a Fun festival at the fair grounds on June 19 and 20. As a main attraction the department will present the Badger State Barn Dance which will provide 50 minutes of comedy of various types. With this entertainment on the grandstand there will be a midway with games, shows, rides and concessions. A parade will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, June 20, which will include 200 musicians from Shawano, Pulaski, Chilton and Seymour. There will be a baseball game at 10 o'clock the same morning between Bonduel and Seymour, both top teams in the Land of Lakes league.

Memorial day services will be held in Seymour on Monday, May 31. Assembly will be at the high school at 9 o'clock, with the parade starting promptly at 9:30. This parade will include the Seymour High School band, members of the American Legion and its auxiliary, Women's Relief Corps, children from the schools and members of other community organizations. The service following the parade will be held at the high school gymnasium after which the American Legion auxiliary will take charge of the services at the Seymour City cemetery.

Mayor C. Groendahl has issued a proclamation for the observance of Memorial day on Monday, May 31, and that all places of business will be closed on that day. Three musical groups of Seymour will attend the annual music tournament at West De Pere on Saturday. These are the girls' glee club, mixed chorus, and the band. The selections which the glee club will sing are "June Rhapsody," "I Had a Little Soldier" and a medley of Nursery Rhymes. The mixed chorus will sing "Lullaby," "Brahms," "In These Delightful Pleasant Groves," Purcell. The glee club will sing at St. John's Lutheran church at 8 o'clock in the morning; the mixed chorus at the same place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the band will play at the St. Norbert gymnasium at 9 o'clock in the morning. At 9:20 the band will sight read at St. Joseph's hall and will enter the parade which begins at 4:30. Mrs. E. T. Hawkins entertained 20 guests at a supper at the Evangelical church on Wednesday evening. Honors in cards were won by Mrs. William Piehl, M. H. P. Leminger, and Mrs. G. Falck with carrying prize to Mrs. R. T. Jones.

The American Legion auxiliary held its regular meeting at the hall on Monday evening with 10 members present. The poppies were distributed among the members to be sold on Poppy day, Saturday, May 29. It was decided to give a dance date to be announced later. Lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Longrie, and Mrs. Harrison Smith. Mrs. John Bunkelman, Mrs. Art Zuehlke, Mrs. Frank Longrie, and Mrs. Clyde VanVuren attended the spring conference of the American Legion auxiliary at Marinette on Wednesday.

The Rev. Herbert J. Lane, pastor of the Methodist church at Shawano, will be in charge of the services at the Seymour Methodist church beginning at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The Rev. Lorenz Knutson, local pastor, will take the Rev. Lane's place at Shawano. At the Epworth league meeting at 7:30 in the evening delegates to the district convention at Wausau will give their reports.

Services at the Evangelical church next Sunday will begin at 10:45, with the Rev. H. A. Bernhardt giving the sermon. Forrest Huth, lay delegate to the annual session of the Evangelical conference at Milwaukee, will give his report.

The Ladies Auxiliary society of the Congregational church will hold a food sale at the Cashway store Saturday afternoon.

Father Vissers of Oneida was the speaker at the Kiwanis club meeting held at Falk hotel Tuesday evening. He spoke on his trip to South America.

INJURED IN FALL

LaCrosse County Board

Votes Airport Purchase

La Crosse—(AP)—The La Crosse county board of supervisors late yesterday voted to appropriate $13,500 to purchase French Island property owned by Raymond V. Pfafflin for airport purposes.

A circuit court jury had fixed that amount as an equitable price for the property, already improved for airport purposes and originally leased by Pfafflin to the county. About $60,000, most of it in relief labor, has already been spent on the site.

Pfafflin, contending the land and buildings of the Class A port are worth $45,741, is expected to appeal to the Wisconsin Supreme court.

Mayor Calls Special

Meeting of Council

Ordering in of water, sewer and gas service pipe on five streets expected to be paved this summer will be considered by the common council at a special meeting called by Mayor Goodland for 7:30 tonight at the city hall. The streets are Packard from N. Division to Mason, Leave from Newberry to N. Island and from S. River to Maple, Morrison from Hancock to Wisconsin avenue, Ravinia place, and W. College avenue from Linwood to Outagamie. The council also will reconsider its appropriation of $700 made Wednesday evening for fireworks at the Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce July 4 celebration.

Father Hietpas to Celebrate First Mass on Sunday

Will be Ordained Saturday At Cathedral in Green Bay

Little Chute—The Rev. Alfred H. Hietpas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hietpas, route 3, Appleton, will celebrate his first holy mass at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at St. John church, Little Chute. Father Hietpas, who is a graduate of St. John parochial school, Little Chute, St. Norbert high school and St. Norbert college at DePere will be ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Paul P. Rhode of the Green Bay diocese on May 22 at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral at Green Bay.

Father Hietpas was born Feb. 18, 1911, at Little Chute. He took his classical and philosophical courses at St. Norbert college, DePere, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree. He entered St. Paul seminary at St. Paul in 1933 for his theological course and received tonsure in 1933 and the minor orders of porter lector in 1934, exorcist and acolyte in 1935. He was advanced as sub-deacon in June, 1936, and in October of the same year was made a deacon.

The Rev. Alfred Hietpas will be assisted at the mass by the Rev. Raymond Hietpas, a cousin and assistant pastor at St. Mary church, DePere, as deacon, the Rev. Gerald Hietpas, O. Praem., a cousin, and pastor of St. Margaret Mary church at Cutbank, Mont., as sub-deacon, the Very Rev. John J. Sprangers of Little Chute, presbyter assistant, the Rev. Joseph W. Jensen of DePere, master of ceremonies, the Rev. Denis Burke, O. Praem., Prior of St. Norbert Abbey, DePere, will deliver the sermon.

Little Miss Eunice Ebben, niece of Father Hietpas, will act as his bride and her attendants will be Miss Sheila Ebben and Miss Donna May Vanden Heuvel. Special music during the mass will be given by St. John choir assisted by Harold Hoolihan of Kaukauna* as violinist. A dinner and reception to approximately 400 guests will be held at the St. John school auditorium after the services. The Rev. Theodore Verbeeten of Elcho will act as toastmaster.

Concert Planned In Marion Park

Musicians From Neighboring Schools to Take Part in Program

Marion — Plans are underway for a Memorial day concert in the village park on Monday, May 31. The Marion High school band will be the nucleus, augmented by 50 musicians selected from high school bands of the surrounding communities. The selections will be made by Harold Schlomovitz, Marion school band director. Several out-of-town bandmasters will serve as guest conductors.

Bands from which musicians will be selected are Clintonville, New London, Shawano, Tigerton, Weyauwega and Manawa. The concert will be a part of the American Legion Memorial day program.
